Sophomore Attendant Shauna Fry and her father reveled in the traditions of Katella's fourth annual homecoming.

Expressions of joy, delight, and contentment were all apparent as Senior Attendant Kathy Lae was escorted by her father.

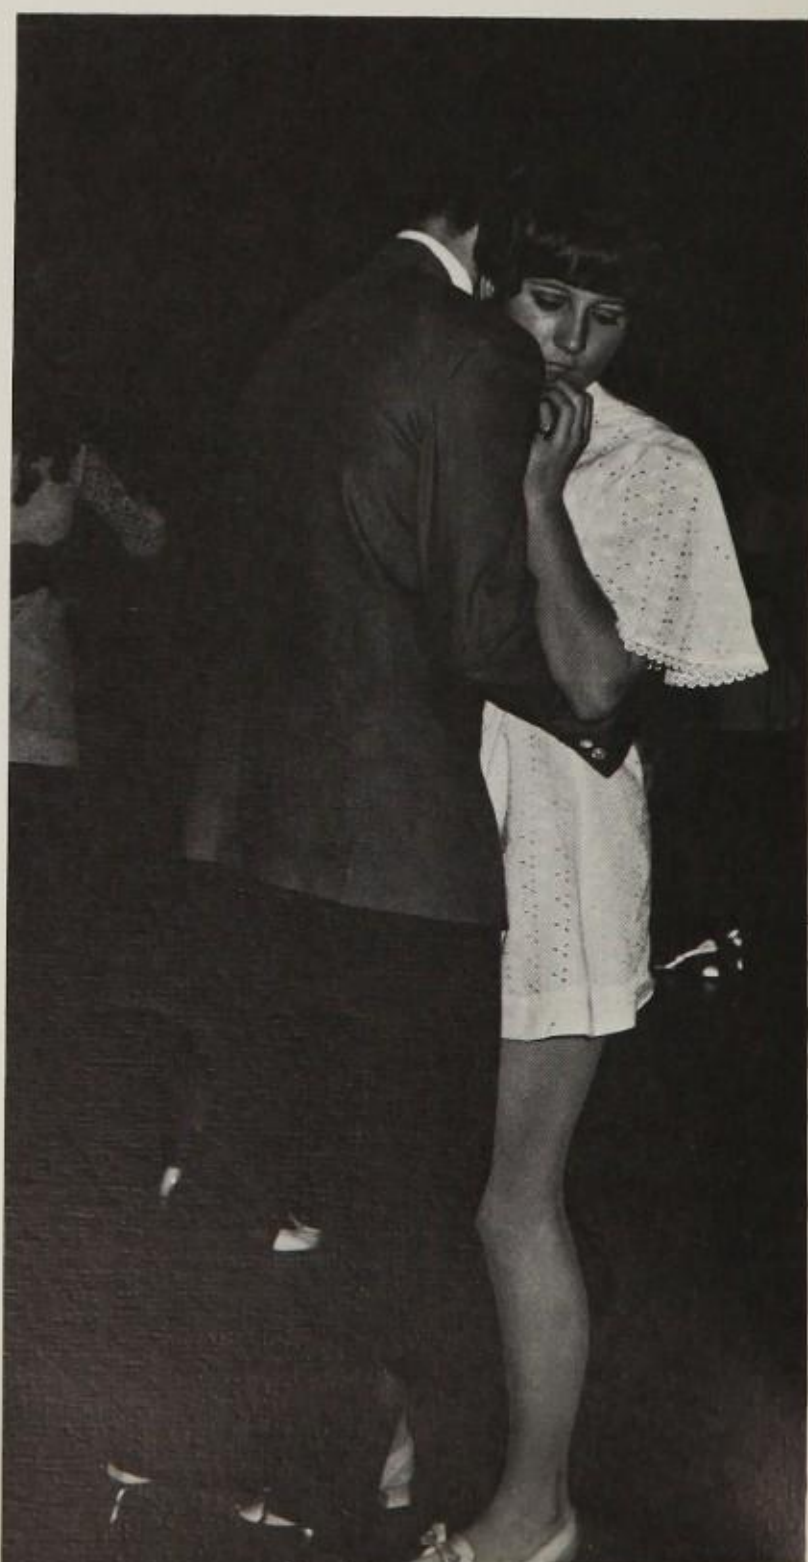

Sincere smiles of happiness were conveyed by Mr. Schmidt and his daughter, Senior Attendant Regina Schmidt.

Ecstasy and happiness were felt by both Queen Carol Stein and her father.

Complete bliss glowed from Queen Carol Stein's face.

homecoming spirit dissolved disappointing weather as knights rolled to victory

The conclusion of halftime brought the long awaited announcement of the "Medieval Fair" court, crowning Carol Stein Queen.

The beginning of Homecoming Week was filled with hopes and tensions. By Friday evening, spirits were at a peak as the massacre of the Los Amigos Lobos and the unveiling of our 1969-1970 homecoming queen brought the anxious week to an end.

The week started out with the selling of Homecoming Mums by the G.A.A. Radiant smiles and puzzling glances were exchanged when the mums were delivered.

The week was long and strenuous for all of the Homecoming contestants. Finally, Friday brought the announcement of the finalists. Shauna Fry won the honors for the sophomore class as Jocie Rothrock was chosen to represent the junior class. The suspense was not quite over as the three finalists for Queen, seniors Kathy Lae, Carol Stein, and Regina Schmidt were introduced at the Homecoming assembly. Finally, the long awaited night arrived bringing with it much happiness and many tears.

The heavy rains failed to dampen the Knights' spirits as La Palma Stadium was packed with returning alumni and present day Knights. During halftime, each contestant was escorted by her father, and when Carol Stein stepped forward to receive her roses, the air was filled with cheers of approval. The grand finale came with the concluding score of the game, giving Katella even more reason to be "proud Knights" for the Big "K" stomped off the Lobos 68-0.

The next evening, couples arrived at Fullerton Junior College in a flurry of colors and corsages. The music of the Sweet Bread drifted through the air as Queen Carol Stein and her court presided over the "Medieval Fair", which was the climax of the exciting week.

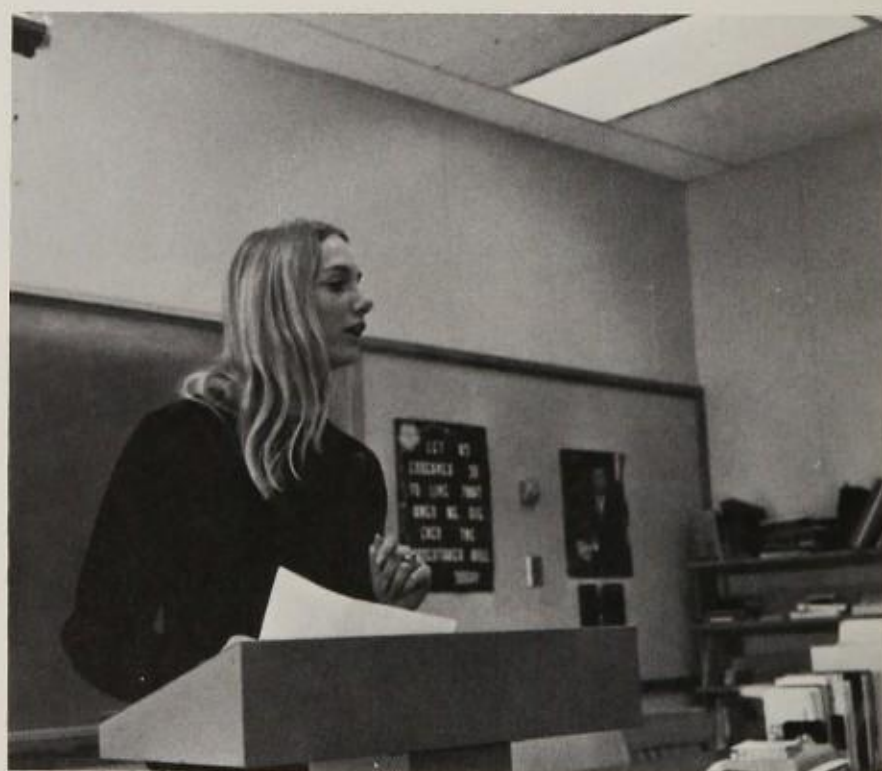

G.A.A. President, Sue Moulton, convinced many young men that a beautiful white Katella mum was the perfect gesture.

After learning of the news of Fefel's imminent departure, Hodel was comforted and consoled by father and husband.

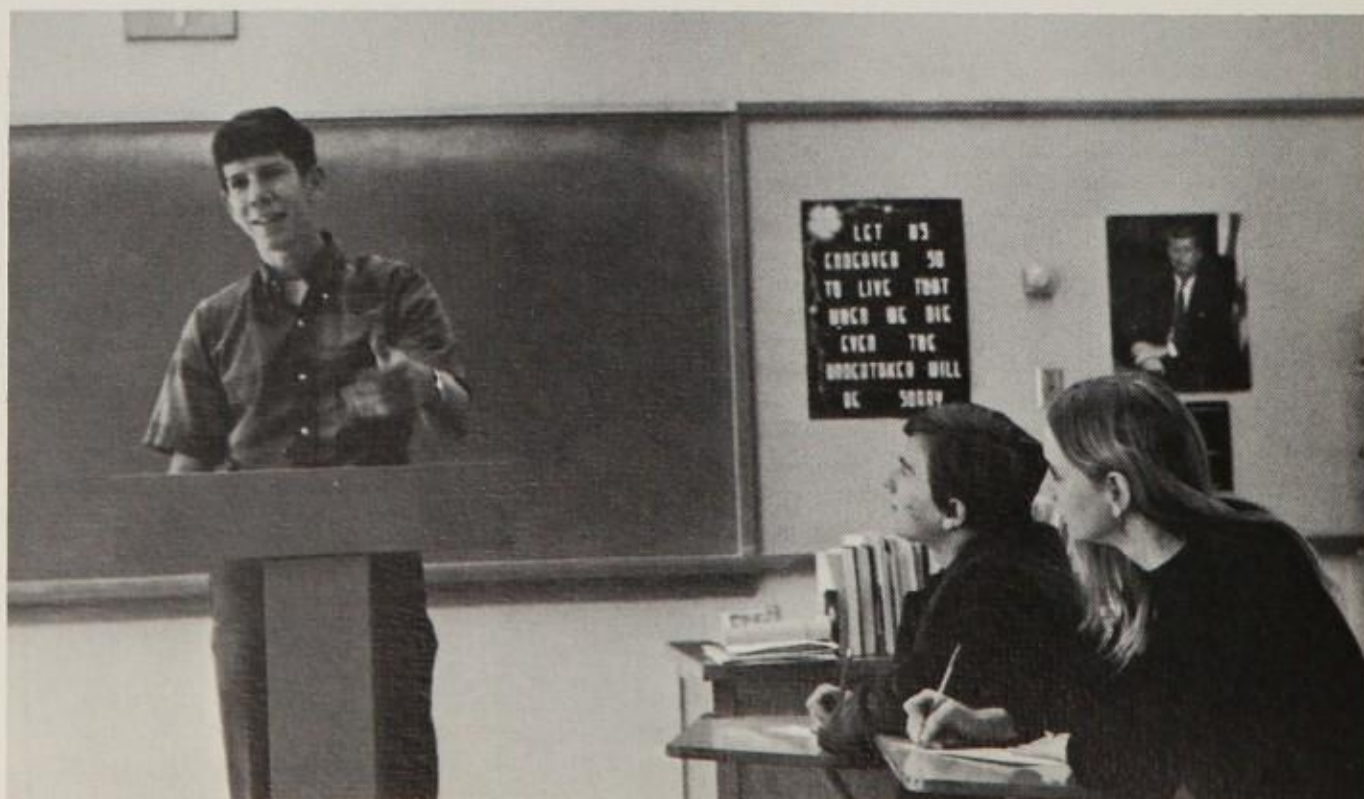

Golde comforted her husband Tevia as he awoke from a nightmare resulting from his guilty thoughts.

Roxanne Marshall showed what hard work can do as she took a second at the Tustin Tournament.

Scott McDonald delivered his speech under the scrutinizing glances and critical pens of Joe McCartney and Roxanne Marshall.

*'when endeavor

Hodel's husband-to-be, Feferal, took a rebuff from Golde at one of the dinner hour debates, proving that age and experience conquers youth.

As Katella's first musical-comedy progressed, Tevya found himself in innumerable predicaments caused largely by his large mouth and philosophical thoughts.

The scene took place in Czarist Russia at the turn of the century. As the curtains opened, a dim light focused on Tevya, portrayed by Scott Nelson, sitting on a tree stump pondering over his problems. Why was he so unhappy? He had a good wife and three lovely daughters. What was wrong? His whole problem revolved around his three daughters. He loved them dearly and they were his whole world. But each day his daughters were growing older and it was time they had husbands. He was so poor that he could no longer provide for their needs. Three weddings had to be arranged as soon as possible. Tevya's daughters had their own ideas on marriage, though. Tzeitl, played by Kathy Abbot, Hodel, played by Kristi Morgenson, and Chava, played by Diane Nash, often felt so depressed over their love life that they would sing together to the immortal Matchmaker in hopes that she could help them out. Golde, the girls' loving mother, was portrayed by Sandy Steiner.

Tevya and His Daughters was directed by Mr. Jack Schlatter, with the aid of Student Director, Peggy Stephens. It certainly lived up to, if not even surpassed the fine quality of preceding drama productions.

Varsity speaker Joe McCartney practiced form and delivery in preparation for the many inter-scholastic tournaments.

"Helplessly Hoping" was the song performed by Linda Hidy, Gay Perez, and Jenny Grandi; a perfect blending of harmony and guitar.

Growiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiwiw
nence on campus, the Folk-Rock Club, presided over by Gay Perez, ended their successful year on a musical note.

Working closely with the A.F.S. Club, members of the Folk-Rock initiated our foreign students to that age old custom: trick or treat at Halloween. Valentines Day rolled around, and the music makers were put to the task of performing the singing telegrams. Armed with banjos, guitars, and tambourines, the crescendo of voices added an unusual touch to the traditional love notes.

The club was not all fun though, as many nights were spent rehearsing for the numerous concerts. Blending with carefully strummed guitars, the multitude of voices could be heard spreading the current revolution of unity. The hard work brought results, as the club was honored by a request to perform at the Golden Pheasant Restaurant.

The grand finale found all members massed on stage for the performance of "Atlantis," bringing to a close an experience with music itself.

Tom Clift plucked his twelve string guitar, giving the audience an insight of the beauty of folk music.

Club President Gay Perez achieved the goal in singing a song: involvement.

*'a sanctuary for

gay perez

Adding a different touch to the concert, Frank Chavez performed his own creation, entertaining the audience with an original flair.

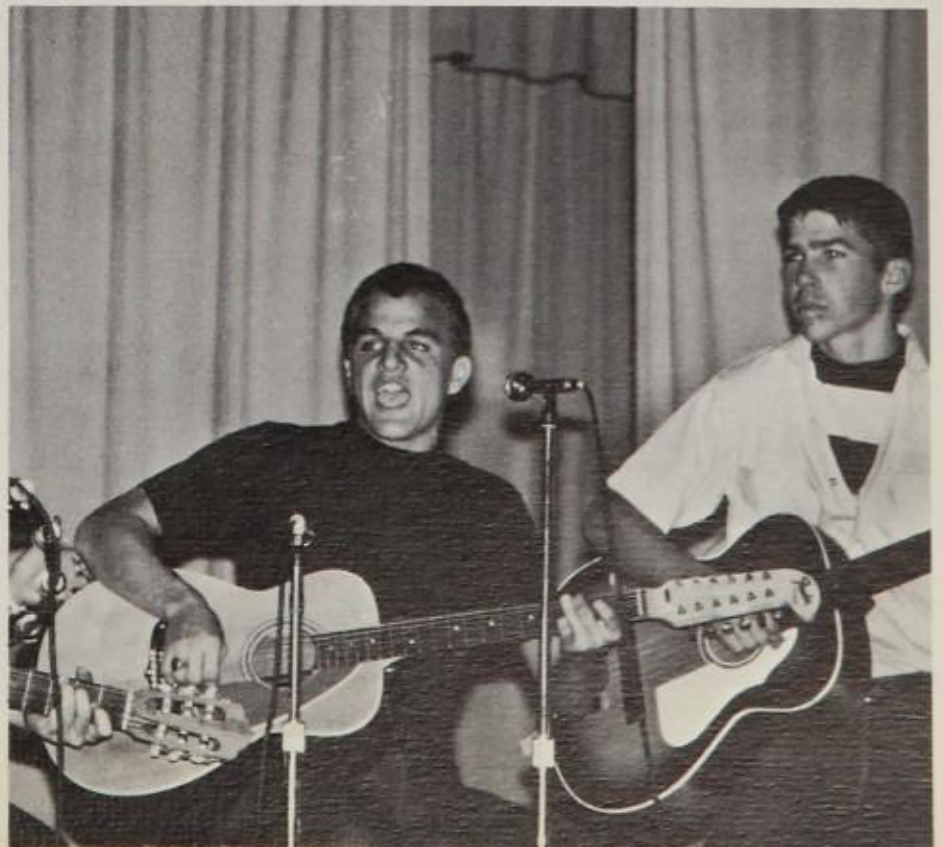

Debbie Nichols listened attentively as Mark Bosna laid forth the last minute instructions a few minutes before the concert began.

With Mark Bosna's helping hand, Rick Mitchell opened up the second half of the Folk-Rock Concert, surprising everyone with his Southern "blues" hit.

Two Folk-Rock Club members, Mike Duval and Tim Chambers, discovered that through music, they could express all of the deep problems which teenagers are faced with today.

'on earth peace,

The audience at Anaheim's Convention Center was honored indeed to have the opportunity to hear Lori Palmer, one of Katella's most talented singers.

Singing the current "freedom" songs in their own distinct fashion, the New Hope Singers received a standing ovation from enthusiastic Knights at the Christmas Assembly.

At one of their many Christmas programs, the Madrigal Choir, in glorious song, strengthened Kahi's reputation of excellence.

good will toward men'

Along with the welcomed aspect of a two-week vacation, the holiday season brought a barrage of Christmas activities to Katella's campus. Everywhere one turned a Girls' League representative could be found bartering with a prospective buyer, trying to relinquish her overabundance of candy canes.

Publicity for the annual yuletide dance started early in the week, which was appropriately titled "The Knight Before Christmas." Couples were promised a visit by Saint Nick, but the jolly old fellow in red and white got his reindeer crossed, and never showed up.

The Christmas season brought a multitude of good spirits which was climaxed by the numerous parties held on campus. Strains of hard rock and the traditional Christmas carols could be heard throughout the campus. Folk-Rock Club members, yuletide entertainment for anyone who cared to listen.

Christmas also brought the annual Disneyland Christmas Parade and the performance of the Katella Band and Scarlet Chevaliers. Through the effort of early morning practices during the preceding weeks, Katella displayed exceptional music qualities and precision marching down Main Street U.S.A.

Proving that today's young generation still cares for the Senior Citizens, members of the Service Gents and Serv-Anns sponsored a Christmas party to brighten the spirits and add some of the Season's hope and cheer to convalescents in our area.

Saint Nick never did show up at the "Knight Before Christmas" dance, so to smother their disappointment, Knights settled with dancing to the "The Word" the remainder of the night.

Decked out in all its Christmas splendor, Mr. Ethington's Humanities class was a scene of perpetual yuletide cheer.

cries of vendors

Pep Clubbers Julie Sommers and Vicki Franks added an original touch to the overused idea of sucker sales when they imported theirs from See's Candy.

Katella's Service Gents set up shop after school and sold their ware to any hungry passerby who would part with his pennies.

For two weeks, the student body was overpowered by the more athletic-bound species of femininity, as the G.A.A. solicited their rainbow-colored suckers to Knights, Squires, and Pages.

Charlie Koff got the sales pitch from Ted Pace as he patronized the student store after school.

Performing at one of the frequent post-game dances, the Californians provided the rhythm for the sophomore-sponsored victory fling.

The coming of athletics brought the rooter ribbon sales which helped to finance the annual Drill Team Spring Show.

"Buy an apple for the Prom," was the cry from Junior Class Council members as they desperately scraped and saved.

Along with bringing a foreign flavor to the campus, A.F.S. member Ron Breach mastered the art of making the tasty Italian specialty: Pizza Convinced by a super-sales pitch from Girls' League Representative Carol Woodman, Mike Maxwell splurged a dime of his hard-earned savings to purchase a traditional Christmas treat.

Karen Zogg, Lenore Silverman and Rick Eckiss devoted time and patience to the publication of the Knights' Page.

Early in the school year Mr. McMahon's popularity was exhibited when students voted him Katella's "Mr. Lovable."

Jester club member Clay Mitchell displayed the many weird properties of the sick green ooblick to any prospective buyer.

Supported by Katella's student body, the band and drill team day at Tastee-Freeze was a success.

new tradition at katella: semester grads

Setting another tradition before leaving Katella, the class of 1970 initiated the program of semester graduation. A small graduation ceremony took place and at the conclusion eight seniors were handed their diplomas, the final goal of their twelve years of schooling.

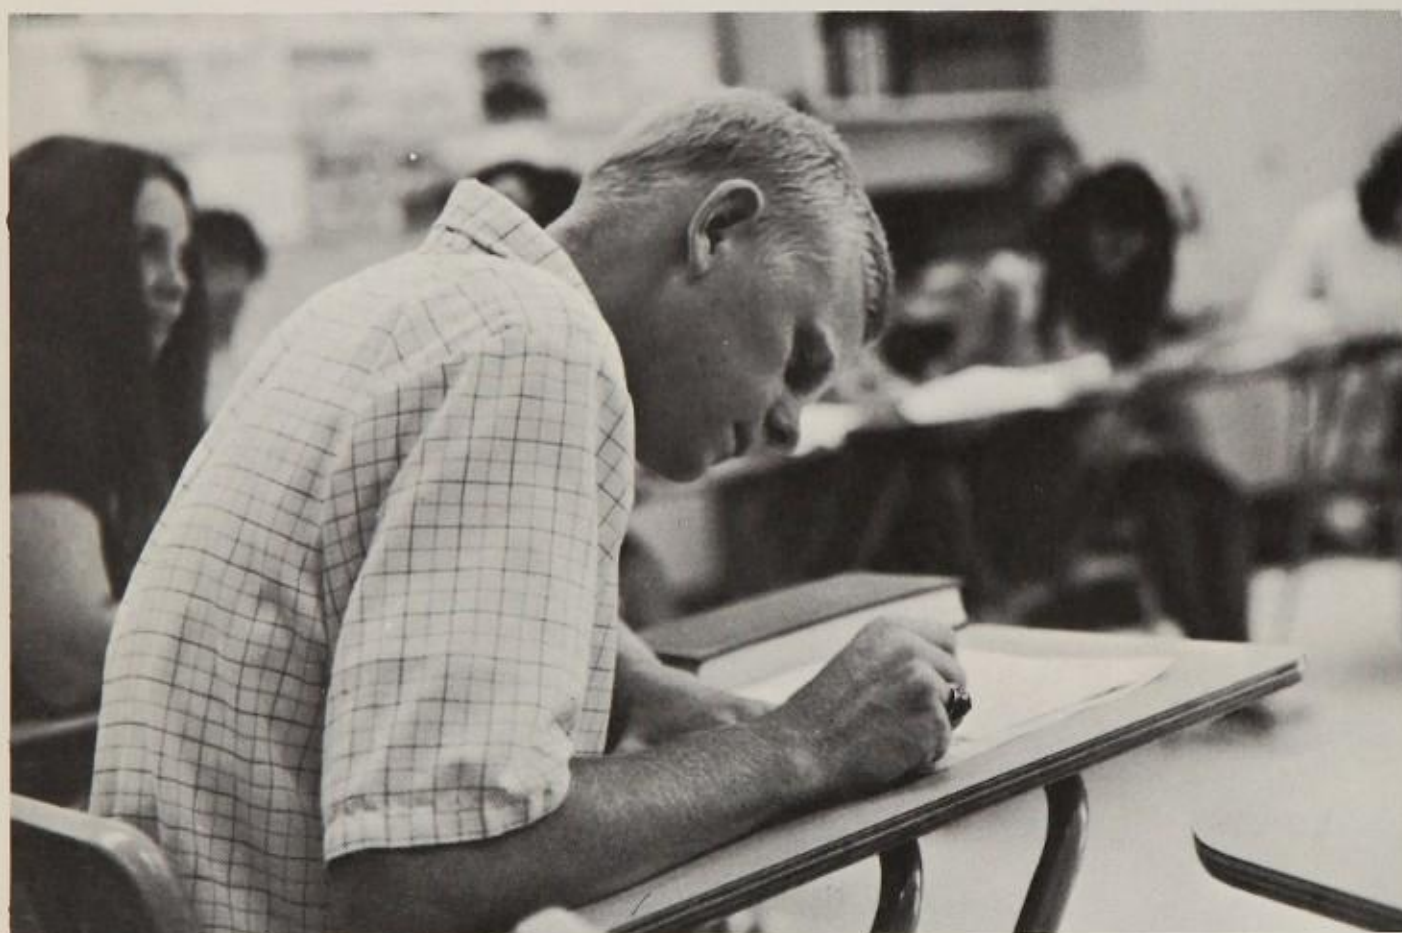

The coming of the semester brought with it another tradition: the age old practice of semester testing. Faced with the dilemma of sleepless nights filled with study and the coming of semester changes, the student body braved their way through the semester's final week. The week had one bright spot however. For the Katella sophomores, the end of the semester brought the termination of Driver's Education, and the commencement of their new-found freedom: a driver's license.

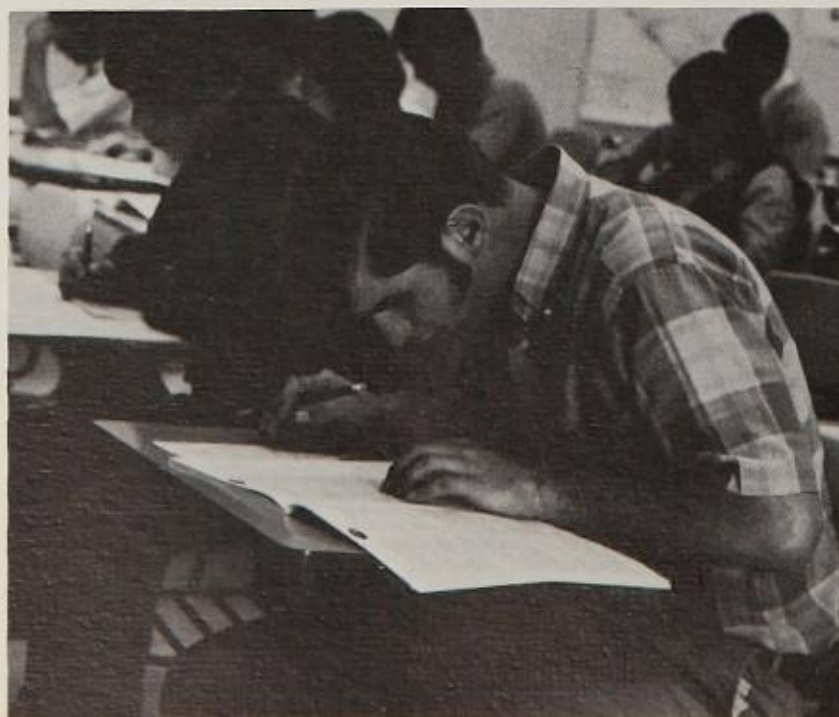

Above—Ken Hunter, as well as many other semester graduates, participated frequently in a variety of Katella's activities during assemblies.

Left—With the final minutes of testing closing in, Kirk Nichols worked to conclude the drudgery of his exam.

Below—Applying herself in every respect to the challenges of a Government semester exam, Mary Evanoff strived toward completion.

Right—With graduation just four months away, Paul Fowler whiled away the last hours of the first semester taking required final exams.

Andrea Meier and Kaarina Kailo were commended by Mr. McNamara for their loyalty to Katella and their fantastic cooking abilities.

Mr. Jack Bighead had the pleasure of speaking before the A.F.S. on the history of the American Indian.

A.F.S. President, Cindy Ratekin, explained the traditions and showed pictures of Katella in its first stages of growth.

Mod Cadiz, along with the other foreign students, adjusted rapidly to the strange Katella routine.

continents, a brotherhood of nations

This year Katella was fortunate enough to have nine foreign exchange students on campus. Arriving from all parts of the world from south of the equator to the boundless areas of snow to the north, the new students were introduced to the Kahi campus at a welcoming assembly.

The International Club sponsored a foreign foods bake sale, which featured French and German pastries. An International Day was planned to enable the foreign exchange students to mingle with the other students from nearby schools.

Foreign exchange students gained a better understanding of American teen-age activities when A.F.S. sponsored several activities and invited them to help out with a bond sale, post-card sale, pizza sale, and a curb painting project.

German Members of the International Club sang their presentation of "Muss i denn", during the Knights-Faculty Talent Show sponsored by the choirs.

Roxanne Didier, Secretary of the International Club, was caught on route to one of the meetings where she efficiently kept the files in order for her club.

After arriving in Anaheim, the foreign exchange students were welcomed wholeheartedly by their American families and friends.

Clustered around the lab tanks, future scientists examined various specimens procured from the ocean bottom.

The release of the ball and a smooth follow through were all a part of a perfect strike as a Bowling Club member practiced her form.

Activities...that's what clubs are all about. A club needs to reach out and actually do things in order for it to be a worthwhile endeavor.

That's the story of Katella's T.A.S.K., Ski, Choir and Bowling groups. They fulfilled their purposes of providing entertainment and learning experiences.

Many devoted hours were used for practice and preparation, and Katella's choir groups were invited to perform on numerous occasions for some very special activities. Many individual members of the choirs were honored for their superb performances.

The Ski Club took many week-end expeditions to skim the mountain tops. Nearly every week-end the club was in action. One of their favorite resort spots was Mammoth, California; where fun in the sun ruled.

Kahi's T.A.S.K. Club sponsored activities on campus for the benefit of other students. They sponsored a Co-Rec night at the beginning of the school year, went bowling, and enjoyed numerous field trips.

The Bowling Club improved their skills every Monday night when they took time out to practice at Carter Bowl.

While awaiting the arrival of their lab boat, T.A.S.K. members, Bob Snow, Mark Gitner, Ellen Fugate and Steve Johnson, examined some equipment.

Dead fish fell prey to the exploring mind and fingers of Becky O'Connor, while Brad Utter back, Linda Clark, Richard Salemi and Cheryl Kempa looked on.

A clumsy catch was all it took to burst a balloon and cause a deluge of water to drench Tom Kittle, providing a laugh for those watching his water-logged fate.

The month of February brought a trio of activities to the KaHi campus-spirit week, Valentine Day and Donkey Basketball.

Spirit Week 1970 masterminded many mild tortures ranging from a root beer chug-a-lug to a water balloon toss.

The course was laid, peddlers mounted, and the grueling tricycle race was started with first place captured by the sophomore class. The annual tug-a-war between the Scarlet Chevaliers and G.A.A. took place during an action-filled noon hour. Contestants took their places, the gun sounded and the test of brutal strength was on. After only a few tugs it was apparent who were the weakest of the sex, for the G.A.A. succeeded in pulling their opponents across the field and into an ice cold sheet of water.

Heart throbs and golden-throated voices were all a part of Katella's Valentine celebration. Girls' League sponsored a carnation sale while the "sweet" tooth was satisfied with F.B.L.A.'s heart shaped suckers.

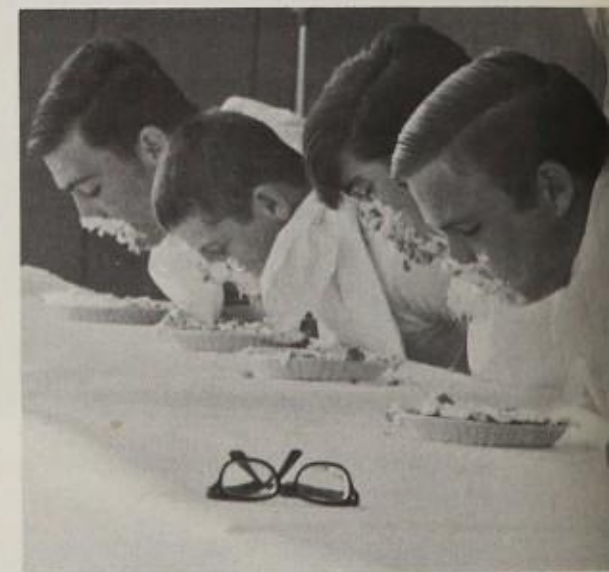

Katell'a first Donkey Basketball game won by students, was a huge success and proved to be a rewarding experience for all concerned. There was no doubt as to who was the star of the night. Whether flat on his back or bounding down court, Mr. Schlatter managed to ham it up and led the faculty squad with the most number of bruises.

Size, preferably on the smaller side, proved to be the determining factor as pint-sized sophomore Scott Gay chugged along to another victory.

A unanimous decision by faculty and students brought laughter and a wave of wolf whistles at the winner of the Beautiful Legs Contest, Frank Daniele.

Spirit Week's pie eating contest proved to be a battle between man and his stomach as mouthfuls of whipped cream were gulped down by enthusiastic gentlemen.

Steve Goodyear, representing Boys' League, raced down court while struggling with his conglomeration of clothes and jumped to make his required basket in the noon relays.

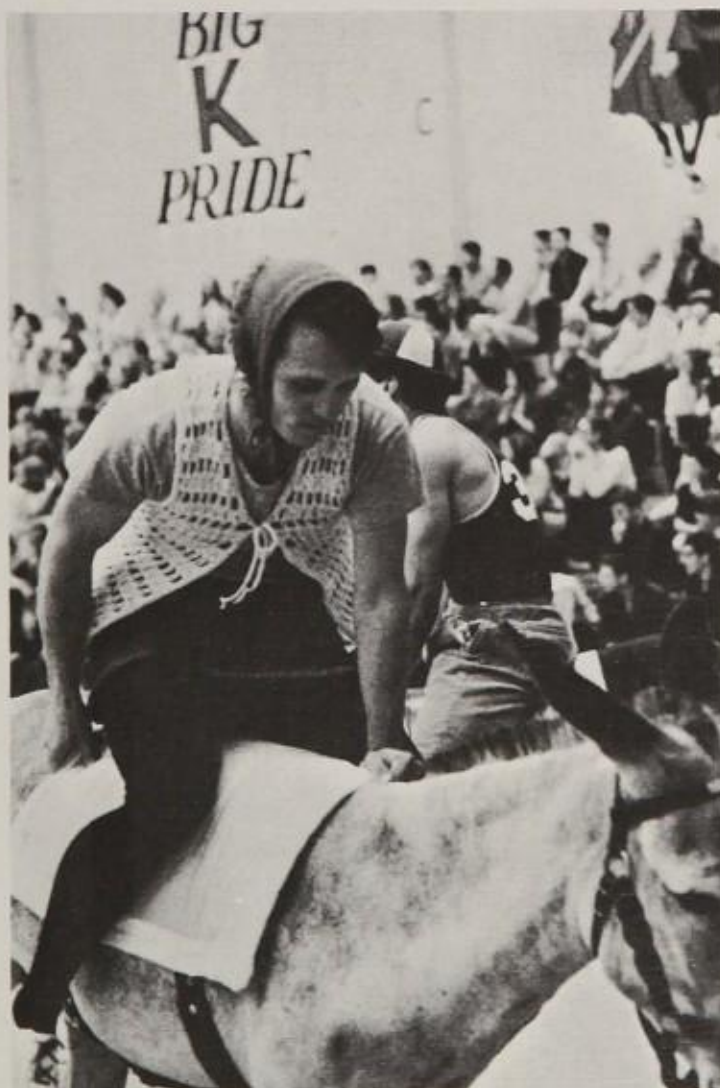

Key Club's Volkswagen and it's fleetfooted power train entered against the "Bed Bug" and gave a good chase but came out unvictorious.

In order to help relations between students and police, students from Katella worked in the production of the movie "Take Another Look."

Left: Chug-a-Lug contestant Robin Brown took a deep breath and proceeded to down his root beer, but he was no match for Carl Magno who came in several gulps ahead.

knights reveled in month of activity

"Charming Chuck Costello" amused students at Katella's first Donkey Basketball Game.

Left: Embarrassment and blushes of deep purple were all apparent as troubadours Gay Perez and Tom Clift played roles of Cupid with their singing Valentine Telegrams.

As the demand for Valentine Carnations grew, Girls' League members Pat McCarthy, Arlene Taormina, and Carol Woodman rushed to decorate carnations.

Everyone was caught up in the carefree and happy Valentine spirit as Jo Eda Comorre bought a heart shaped sucker from F.B.L.A. member Judy Haverchak.

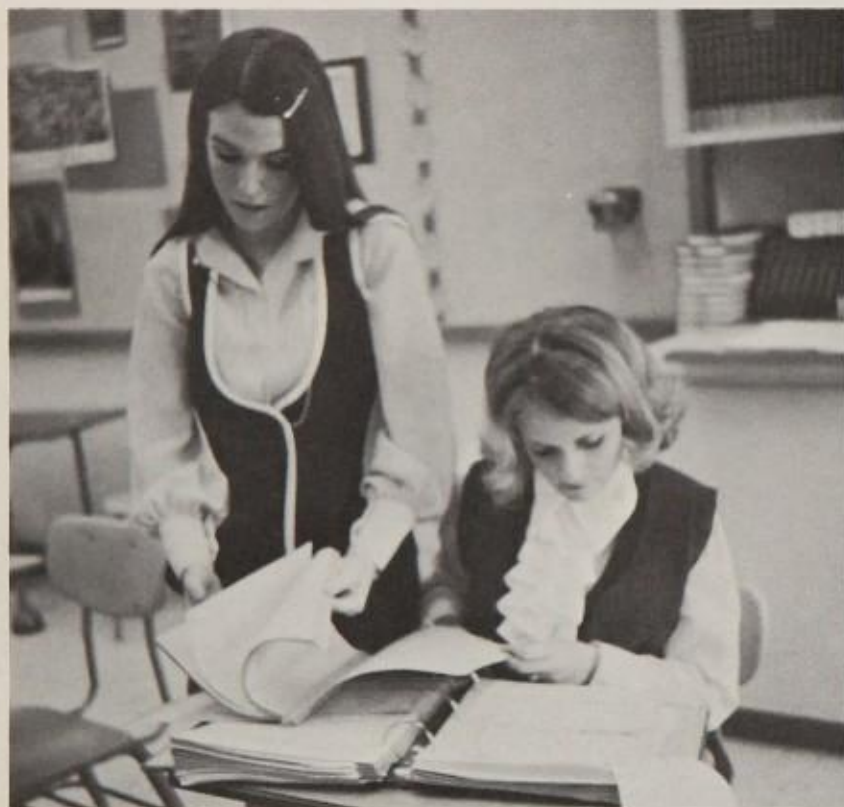

With camera in hand, Dale Motsinger immortalized the year on film; the laughter, victories and defeats.

Described by one member as a "menagerie of people," this year's Knights' Page Staff based its policy on freedom of thought while obtaining literary excellence. Working as a unit behind Advisor Mrs. Butler and Editor Steve Hess, staff members succeeded in recording the happenings of the year and expressing the views of the student body.

Photo Staff and Advisor Mr. Parrott had quite a task before them when they were assigned to fill photo requests from both the Legend and Knights' Page. In order to meet their deadlines, photographers were sent out with the order to "shoot" and more often than not came back with beautiful results.

Amidst a clutter of layouts, copy, and pictures, the 1970 Legend was produced. Co-editors Linda Hidy and Anne Thelen decided to break away from tradition and create a rare and unique annual. After research in the interpretation of the theme "unity" the staff created layouts and copy. Hectic Saturdays and indigestion-filled lunches were spent on the frequent deadlines looming like dark shadows in the background.

Finally, after the last minute anxieties and deliberations, the 1970 Legend was presented to the student body, a product of unified effort.

With multitude of copy and a minimum of time, Legend copywriters Kathy Lac and Roxanne Didier worked using every ounce of imagination.

Photographers Jamie Williamson and Tom Williams found themselves under the pressure of deadline, but managed to find time to play a practical joke.

Fatigued from working late hours, Legend Copy-editor Linda Parsons forced herself to relax for a few minutes during class time.

'all we need is a little more time to get it together'

s. roberds

Enjoying one of their quieter moments, Legend Co-editors Linda Hidy and Anne Thelen discussed layout problems with Administration Coordinator Janice Stakemiller.

Words come easily to some people, including reporter George Volker, who was dedicated to his articles and who spent long hours polishing them to perfection.

Journalist Cecile Posner utilized her free time writing exceptional articles for the Knights' Page.

Reporter Rose Lae pondered quietly the language of her Knights' Page article.

The photo staff was known as a bunch of jokesters and Mark Pederson was no exception as he took a breather from the hours of work demanded by editors.

David Brown and Diane Nash sought answers to their many problems as the star crossed lovers, Billy and Julie.

full scale musical and shakespearean play brought two firsts to katella

Above: Scholarship winner Kathy Abbot, created many problems as the mischevious Puck for clowns Martin Crowe(Thisbe), Brad Burlingame(Wall), and Albert Alonzo(Pryamus).

Right: Mike Gibbs(Lysander) sought the love of Sandy Nickler (Helena), who pursued George Volker(Demetrius), who was busy proposing to Peggy Stephens(Hermia), whose heart ached for Mike Gibbs(Lysander)... and on and on the madness went.

No other school in the Anaheim District had attempted a Shakespearean play in years so Katella decided to get its feet wet... The success of Tevya and His Daughters with the use of music from Fiddler on the Roof made the Drama Department feel it was time for a full scale musical, so Mr. Schlatter announced the tryouts for both plays Midsummer Night's Dream and Carousel at the same time.

Shakespeare's examination of fantasy mixed with wisdom and life took on a new meaning as the Katella troubadours added gems from their own imagination to Barb's words to bring his story into focus. Featured in starring roles were Albert Alonzo as Nick Bottom in his first major part. His moments on stage were some of the highlights of the evening, especially when he was assisted by Martin Crowe (Thisbe), Tom Kittle (Quince), and our own version of the three stooges, Brad Burlingame (Wall), Rick Eckiss (Moonshine), and Rick Barthel (Lion).

Another part of the story centered around the bewildered lovers whose goals were interfered with by Athenian Law, magic and plain human weakness. This part featured Peggy Stephens as the beautiful Hermia, Mike Gibbs as the heroic Lysander, Sandy Nickler as the 'kookie' Helena and George Volker as the slow witted Demetrius.

With Al Long and his piano supplying the music, Katella had as orchestra to present Rodgers and Hammerstein's well known Carousel. It was the story of Julie Jordan who loved not wisely, but well, with a deepness and tolerance that the world needs today, and Billy Bigelow who could never bring himself to admit that he loved another person yet who gave his life because of his unspoken love.

Diane Nash was given the part of Julie, and David Brown won the role of Billy Bigelow, giving one of the best male performances ever seen on a high school stage. Comedy was supplied by Glen Olson and Peggy Long as Enoch and Carrie Snow, along with veteran Chuck Page, whose Jigger Craggin was a most enjoyable villain. The audience was touched with the beauty conveyed by Pam Schmitt who portrayed the unhappy daughter of Billy and Julie, and Paul Paulsen who played the kindly old starkeeper.

Comedy moments were supplied by Peggy Long as the lovable but somewhat dense, Carrie, and Chuck Page as the devilish Jigger.

Peggy Stephens and Mike Gibbs as the lovers Hermia and Lysander looked toward a new world of real dreams.

Left: Lori Palmer, as Nettie, had the audience on their feet with her renditions of "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "June Is Busting Out All Over."

Above: Leslie Logan, as Mrs. Mullins, spent half the show arguing with Julie (Diane Nash) and Carrie (Peggy Long).

Katella Band combined coordination and skill to present a stunning image of perfection as they took a well-earned third place at the West Arcadia Parade.

Mr. Dean Wakefield, band director worked hard to explain intricate passages and rhythm patterns to confused Knights.

As part of a fund raising function, the drill team added a touch of sparkle to the band's perky tunes at Tastee Freeze.

In addition to these obligations, the Drill Team also performed at many halftime shows during the basketball season.

The Pep Band was helpful in promoting spirit at an unusual lunch rally.

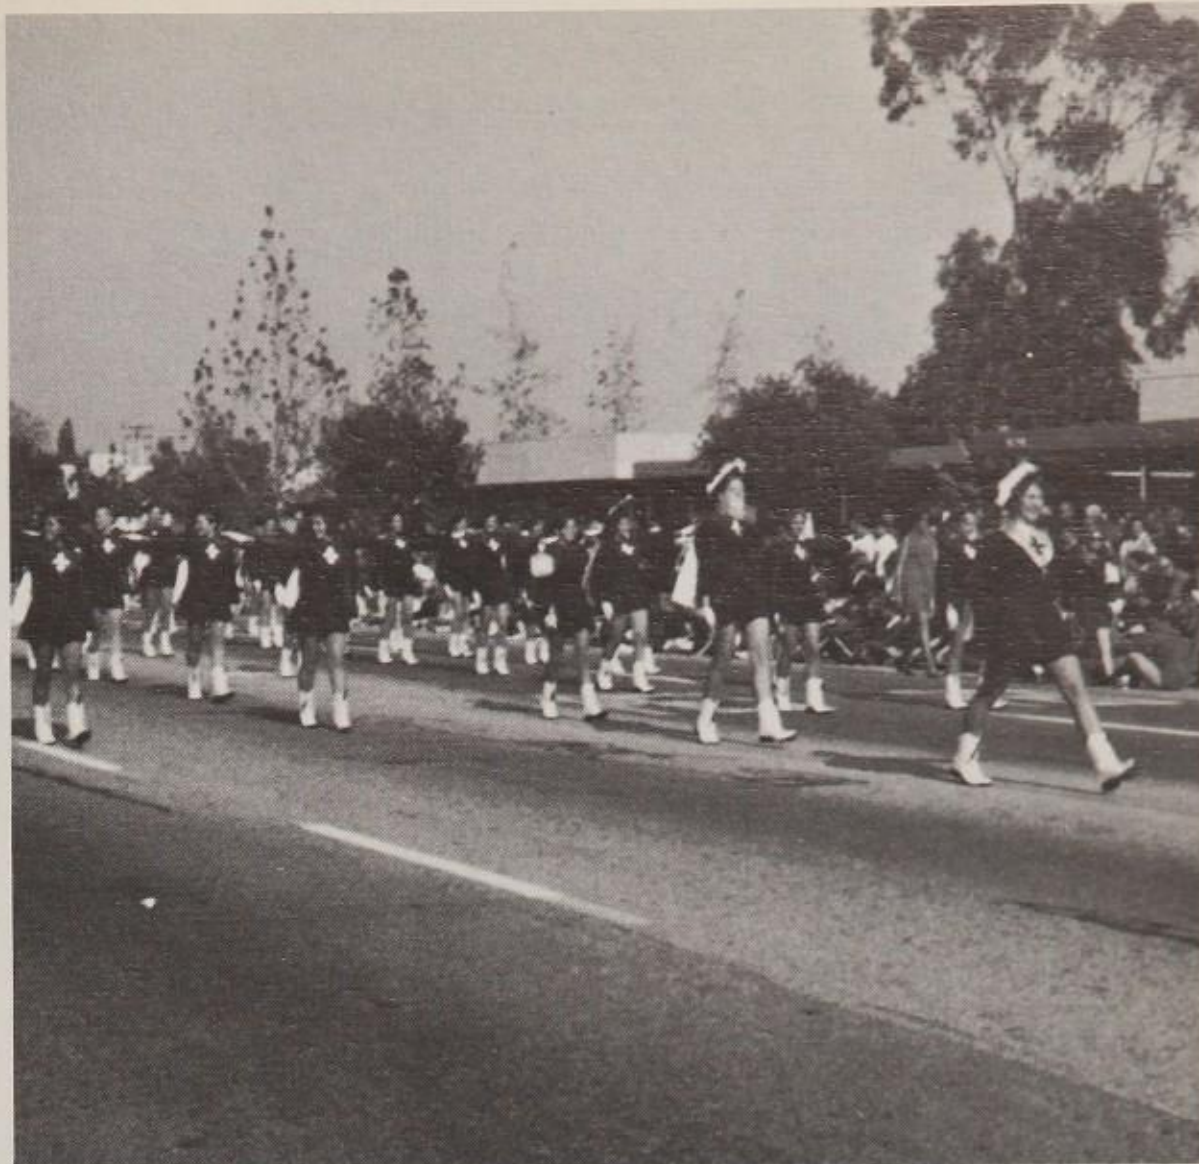

Performing to such tunes as "Comedian's Gallop," and "I'm A Brass Band," the drill team displayed delightful routines for football rooters.

Mary Jo Brown accumulated creative ideas to produce original routines with the undying aid of Roma De-Prang, Junior Leader, Jody Kocaka, Second Recall, Cyndy Black, Head Recall, and Debbie Neidhart, Assistant Leader.

Devoted to the fields of Business Education, Science, Homemaking, and Drama, many individual students were rewarded for their excellent work throughout the year. The Speech team, through long hours of practice, lived up to its honored reputation and continued to bring home many trophies and awards for their superior performances. In keeping with established traditions senior Isabel Tinoco turned junior David Brown's ring, a symbol of his becoming a full-fledged Knight.

Finding a good use for marshmallows dropped by a helicopter for the spirited Los Al game, seniors took refuge in the Senior Circle and proceeded to pelt underclassmen.

It was September 1967 and the Class of 1970 experienced its first day of Katella High. They were newly indoctrinated Knights, and there were traditions to learn and create.

The sophomore year brought the realization of the power of pride and spirit, as the underclassmen were swept up in the wave of Knighthood.

Football games were traumatic experiences; yells and cheers weren't enough as every muscle ached to grab fate by the neck and change the score but suddenly one of our guys made a fantastic touchdown and all ended happily.

Time progressed, and so did the Class of '70 as they entered their second year at Katella and became juniors. Someone had an idea; Green Thumb Day, an idea that became reality in the form of green trees and grass and the ugly brown dirt was covered forever.

Basketball was the focal point of the year and led Katella to the C.I.F. playoffs, where spirit was at a peak, and every heart beat to the rhythm of a dribbled basketball.

The turning of rings was a proclamation to the world that the Class of '70 were full fledged Knights and now were three years; a learning process, an experience seniors, facing their last year at Katella. Every moment was cherished, every frivolity enshrined for with the coming of graduation came the awakening to a new world.

A flurry of gowns and caps, a field of red and black, and the cycle was complete; a three year cycle.

Watching a football game in the rain, the exhilaration of being Number One, the swell of pride upon hearing the word Katella; things that will never be forgotten, for Katella High has etched an eternal place in the memory of every graduating senior, every member of the Class of 1970.

The year's activities were brought to a close as the seniors enjoyed their last formal dance at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Graduation finally became a reality when the Class of '70 ordered their senior announcements in February.

Declaring their prominence, the Class of '70 produced signs and plastered the campus with the slogan "Seniors Rule."

Sports . . . The thrill of competition, the heartbreak of defeat. Victory; and with it the league crown, seemed within easy grasp as the sports season commenced at Katella. The Football game, where spirit bursts and all attention is focused on the battle below. The punishing endurance jaunt, characteristic of Cross Country, Wrestling with its brutal force and concentration. Basketball began; bullets of speed raced down the court, hopes hung high in the air and dropped in for two points. Baseball where the turn of the bat meant a triumph or setback. Ovalmen hustled, energy united in teamwork; victor being the end result. Sports . . .

Above: Brad Burlingame poured on the speed and gave that last needed effort, which showed his will to win, his loyalty to the team and his ability to bring to Katella a little more success.

Right: Endurance, the key factor to the Katella Harriers, was put into effect by George Volker as he set his pace and kept it throughout the long two mile course.

Below: Coach Sweeney paced the starting line, giving serious, last minute instructions and reminders to the runners.

Encouraged by their determination and their will to win, the Knights set out to conquer the opponents and bring home a victory.

Above: Coach Lee's discipline and determination kept the Knights fighting until the last seconds in the exciting '69-70 season.

Left: Nothing could stop charging Robin Brown as he broke through the line and scrambled for extra yardage against Laguna Beach.

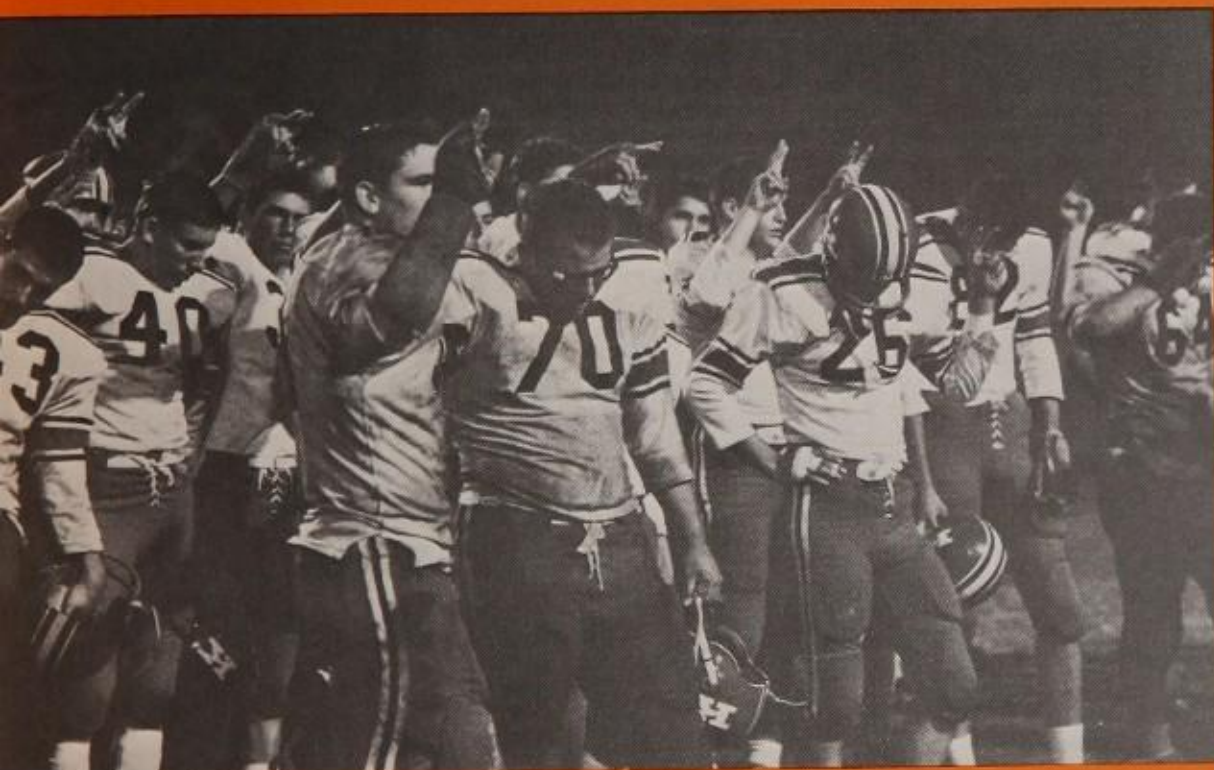

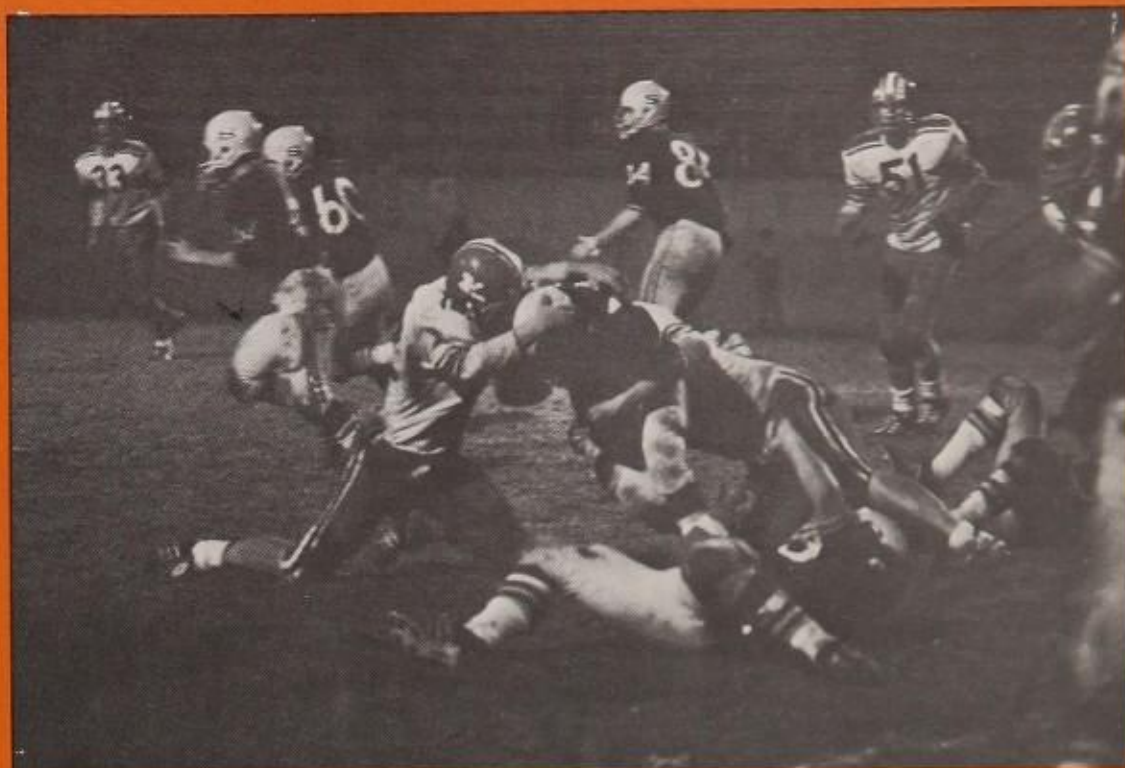

The Knights' Football team this year had a little bit of everything with injuries, upsets, and overwhelmingly successful team effort and play. The Varsity Football Campaign reached the pinnacle of success early in a pre-season victory against the Freeway League champion Fullerton by a score of 14-8. This hard-fought battle proved to be a handicap rather than an advantage as complacency took its toll.

After racking up four straight opponents, the Knights met two undefeated opponents in Los Alamitos and Sonora and emerged defeated twice. These two losses Katella's best league win was the homecoming route of Los Amigos with a score of 68-0. The Knights put together an overpowering offense and a punishing defense. The score at half-time was 34-0 with the subs finishing the game scoring six more T.D.'s.

The season ended with a heartbreaking tie with Saddleback—heartbreaking for it was the last football game the seniors would ever play for Katella.

Precision timing was the keynote as one team member leaped up and seized the ball seemingly suspended in midair.

Steve Ballmer sized up the situation, and maneuvered himself out of a jam by sweeping to his right evading his rivals and racing across an open field.

With just minutes left in the game, Coach Danley called a crucial time-out to go over strategy and plays.

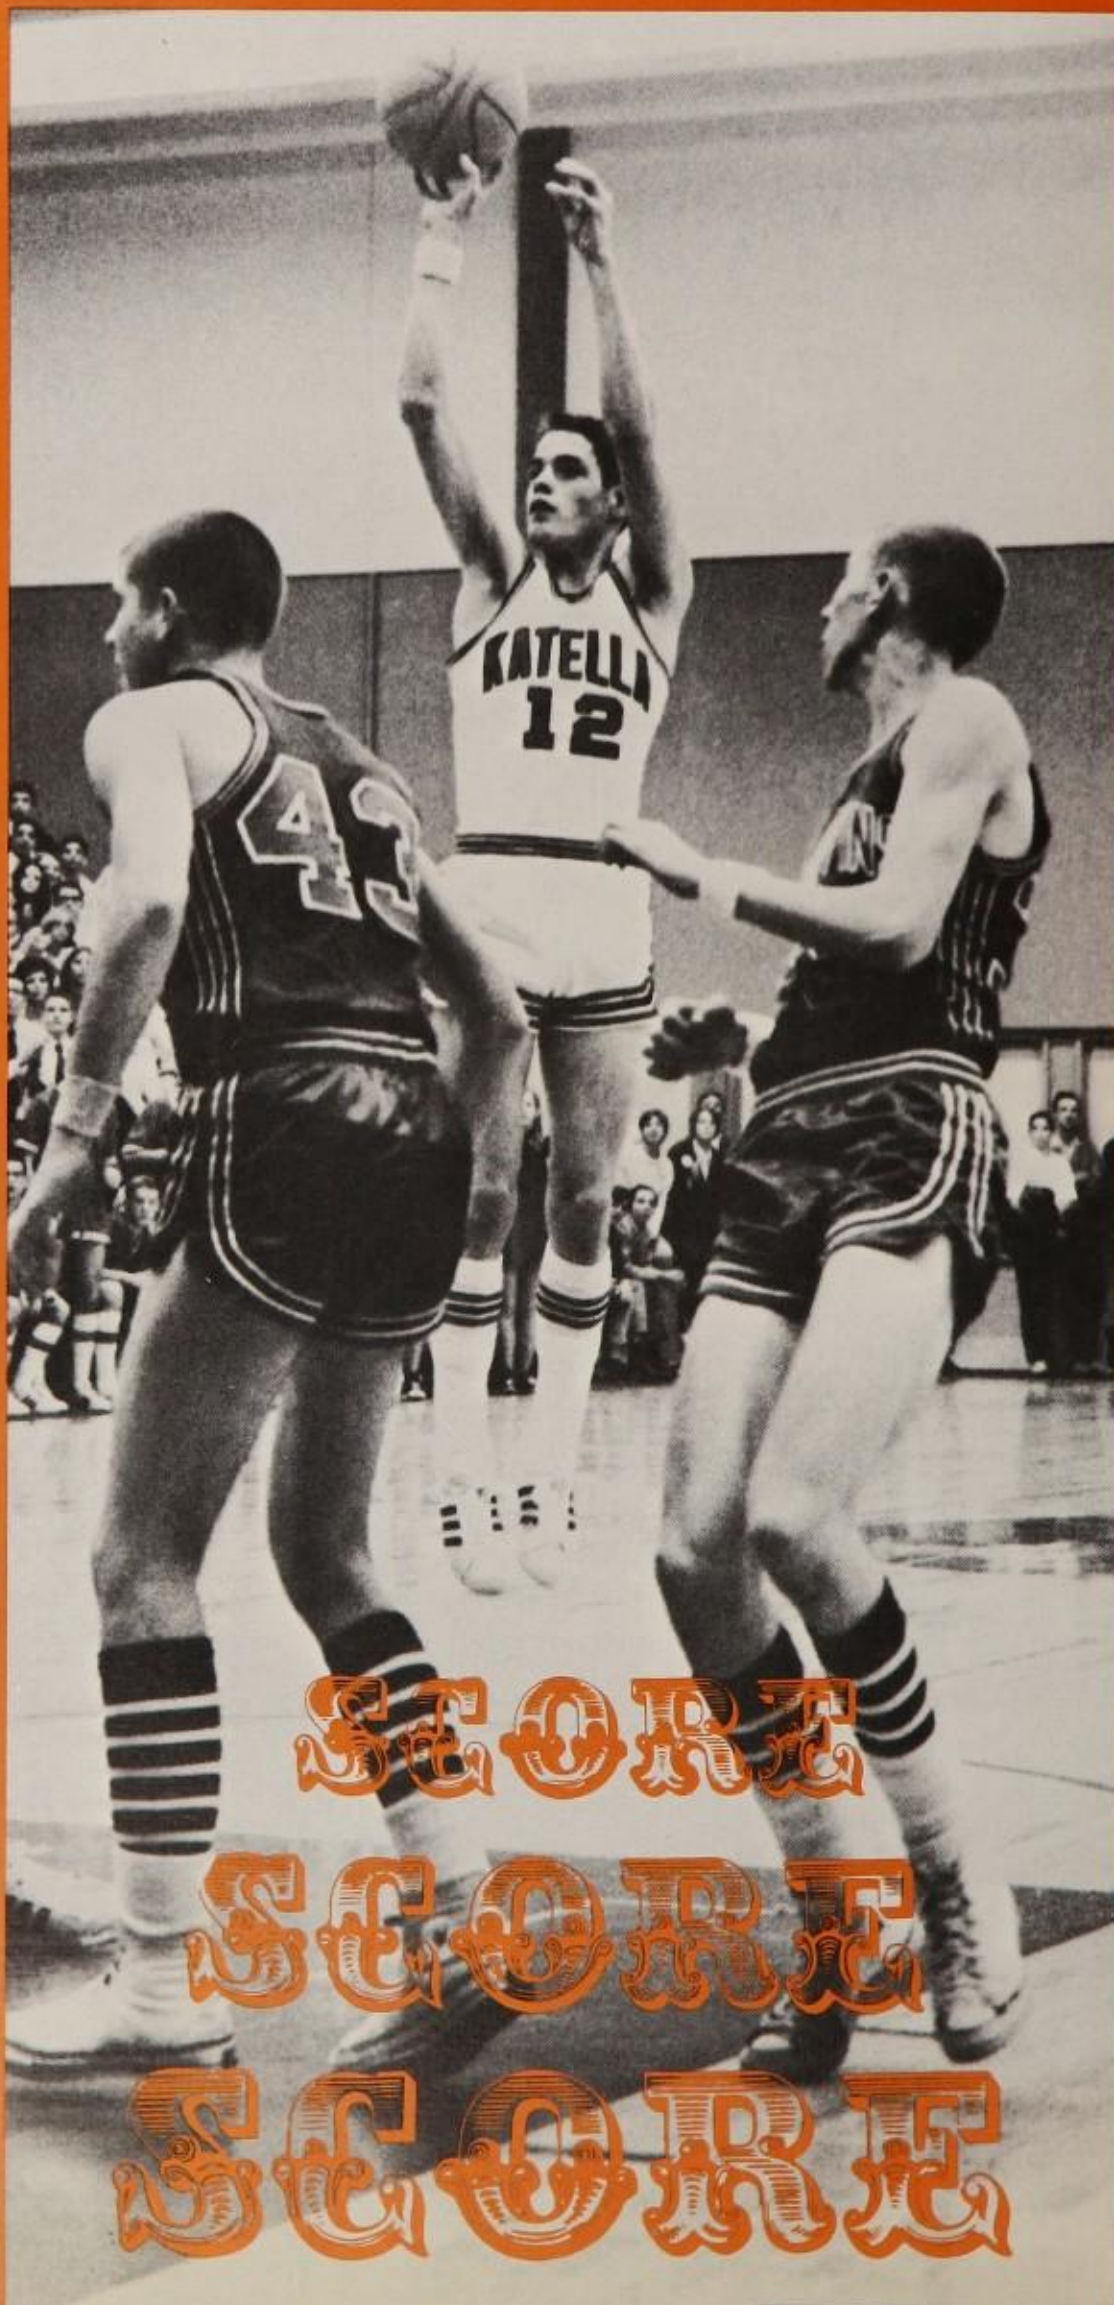

In the first game against Los Al, Katella's all-time high scorer, Rick Aberegg, fighting the Griffins as well as the flu, caught his opponents off guard and took advantage of the free path to the bucket, adding another goal to his career total.

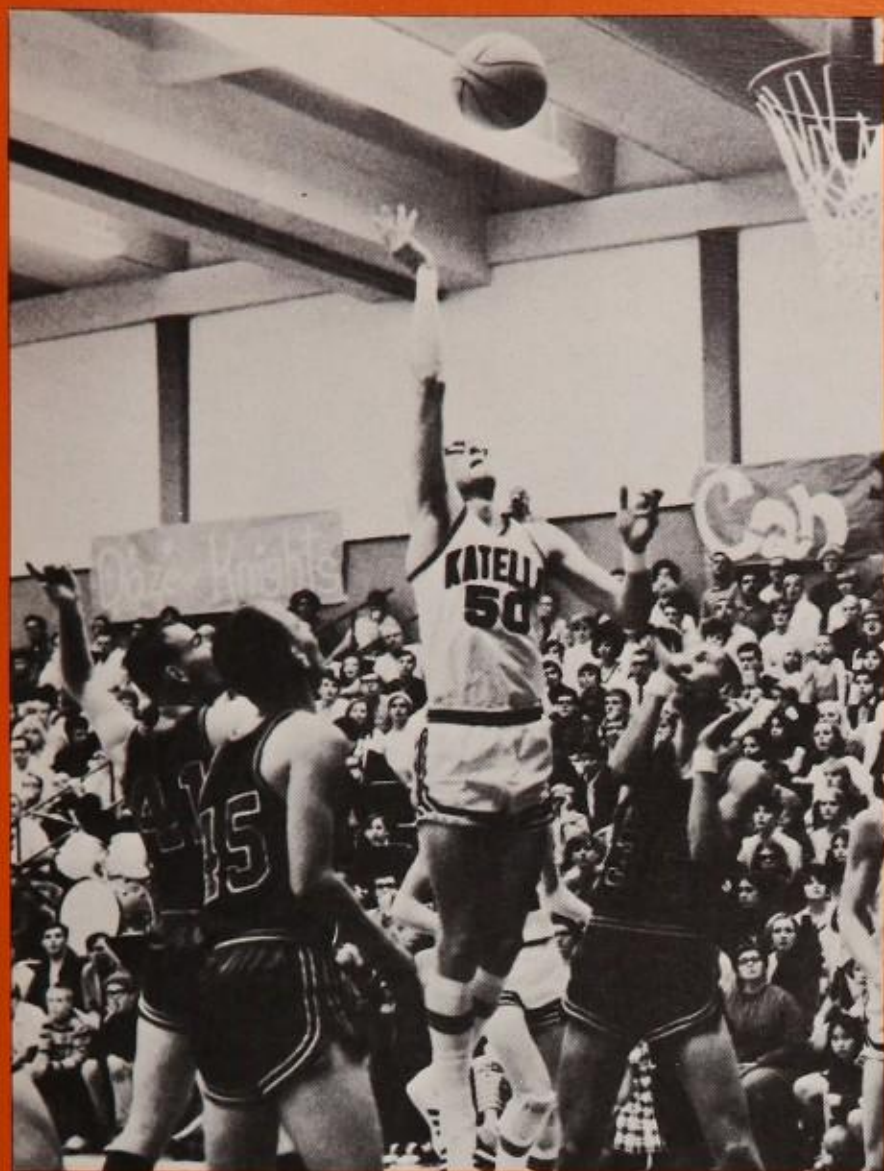

Katella's roundball coach Tom Danley faced a major rebuilding project this year, losing eleven of thirteen players from last year's championship team.

All C.I.F. guard Rick Aberegg was the cagers' main scorer as he broke all previously set records with his barrage of 41 points against Sonora. 6'2" center Mark Connolly, raced the courts, handling most of the rebounds for the Knights; often against opponents three to four inches taller. Coming up from the J.V.'s and Bees were forwards Mike Chastain and Stan Bair, both doing a superb job at the boards.

Sophomores Stan Whieldon and Mark Steinmeyer played as forward and guard, posing many promises of things to come.

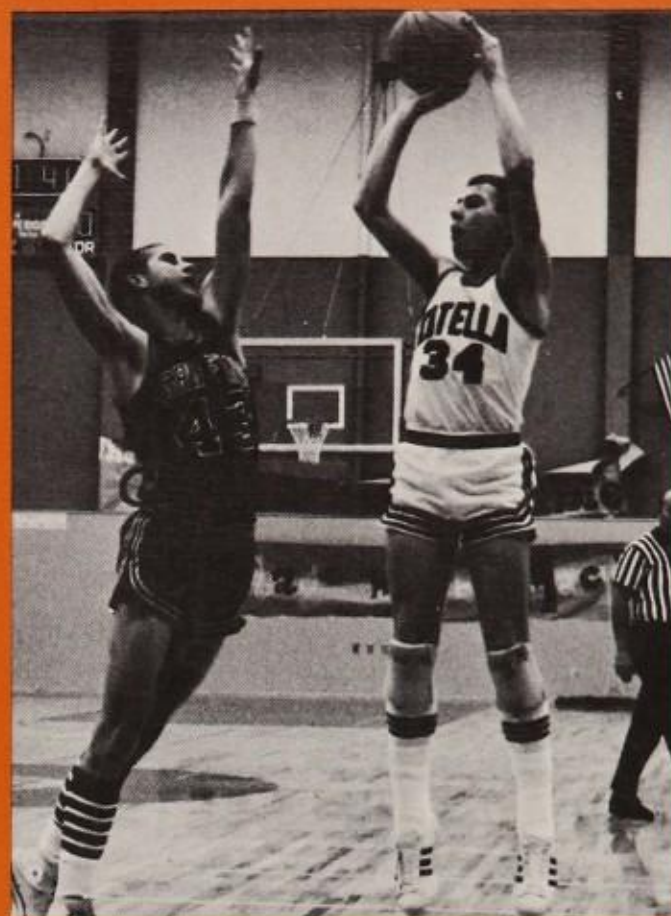

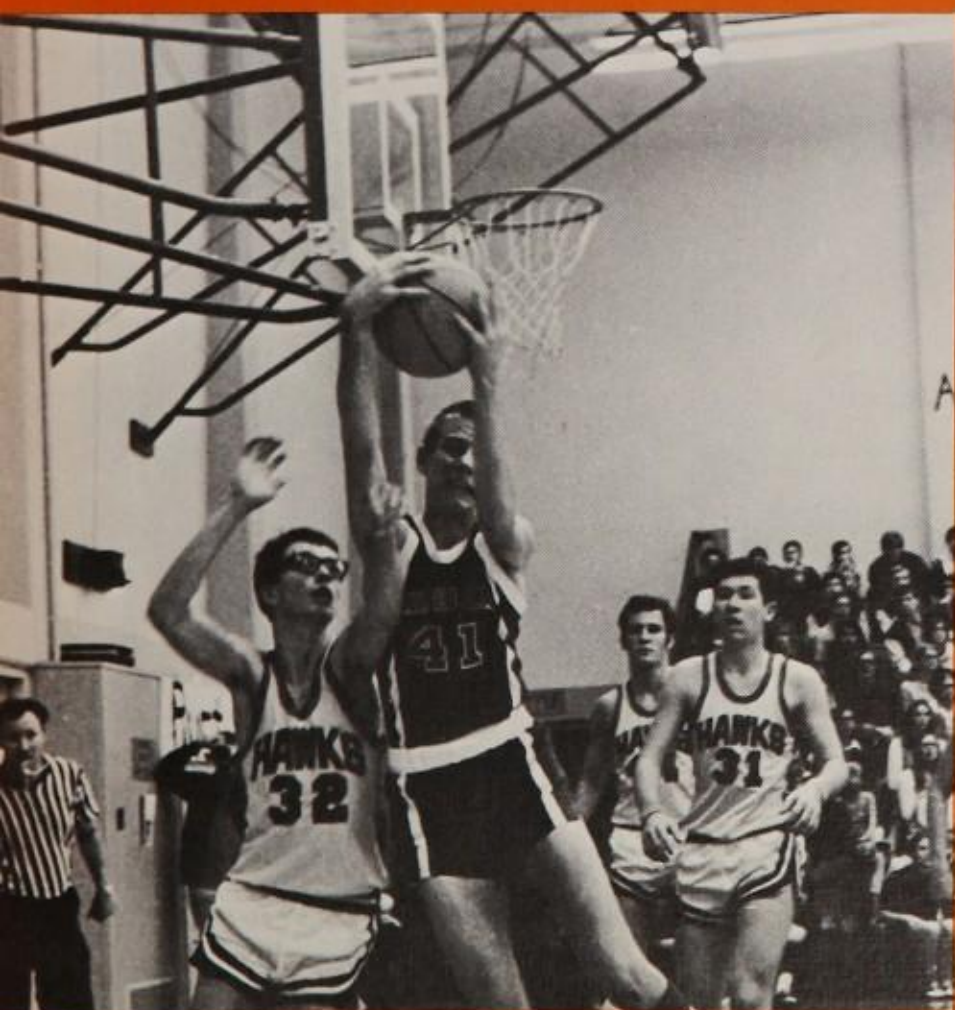

Katella, being one of the smallest teams in the county, used a successful fast break style of play. Using various zone presses and a fast break, Katella made up for their size by outrunning their opponents. Danley's notorious full court press broke open many a game for the smaller Knights, and scored many a victory for Katella.

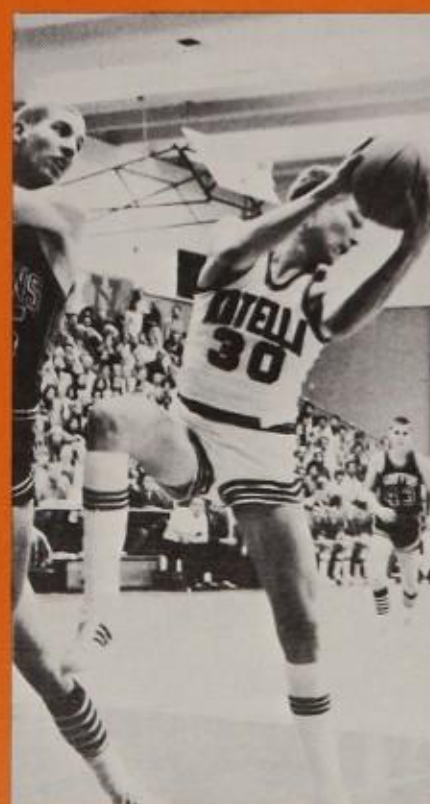

Surrounded by helpless Griffins, center Mark Connolly reached above all and grabbed the rebound.

Mark Steinmeyer took quick aim, then shot for the first two points for Katella.

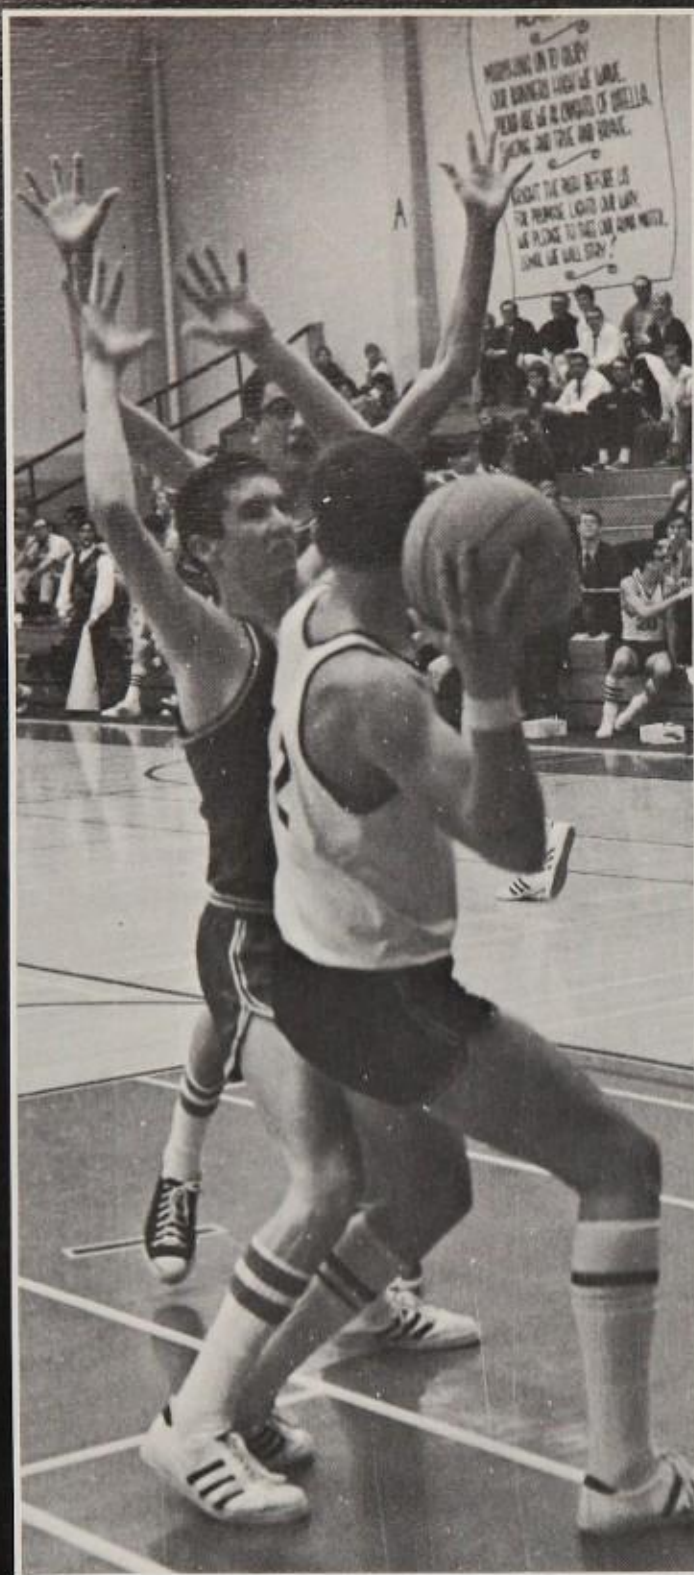

Senior forward Mike Chastain captured the rebound and blocked a Los Al opponent to keep domination of the ball.

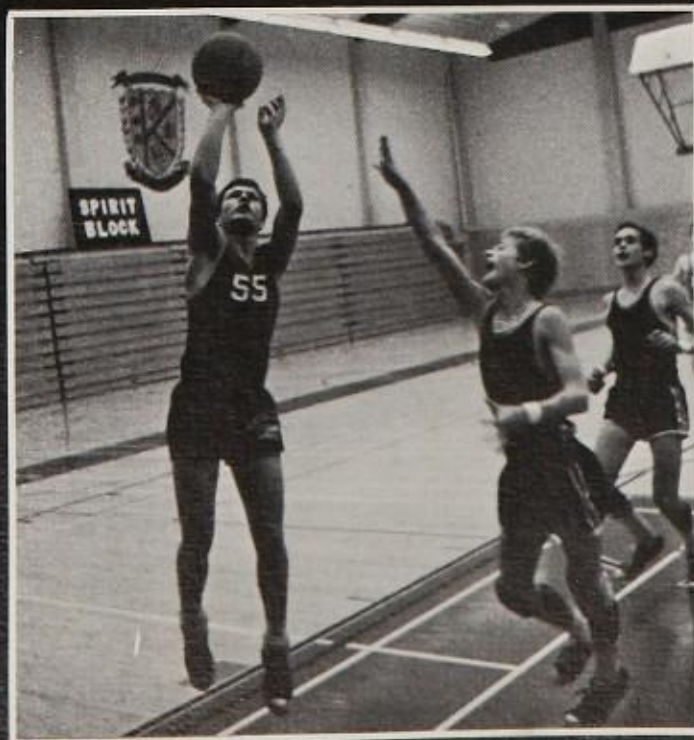

Forward Stan Bair dropped in another shot for two points in league play against El Dorado.

Cee squad member Paul Campbell jumped to get a shot off the finger-tips of a taller opposing player.

Barry Casey awaited pass after fellow B-J.V. player rebounded and protected the ball.

Bruce Bengochea drove past Cee opponent on his way to the boards and another victory for Katella.

This year's edition of the Katella wrestling team, under the direction of Coach Bob Lampshire, faced many problems. Depth and inexperience were the major setbacks which plagued their ability in capturing the league crown.

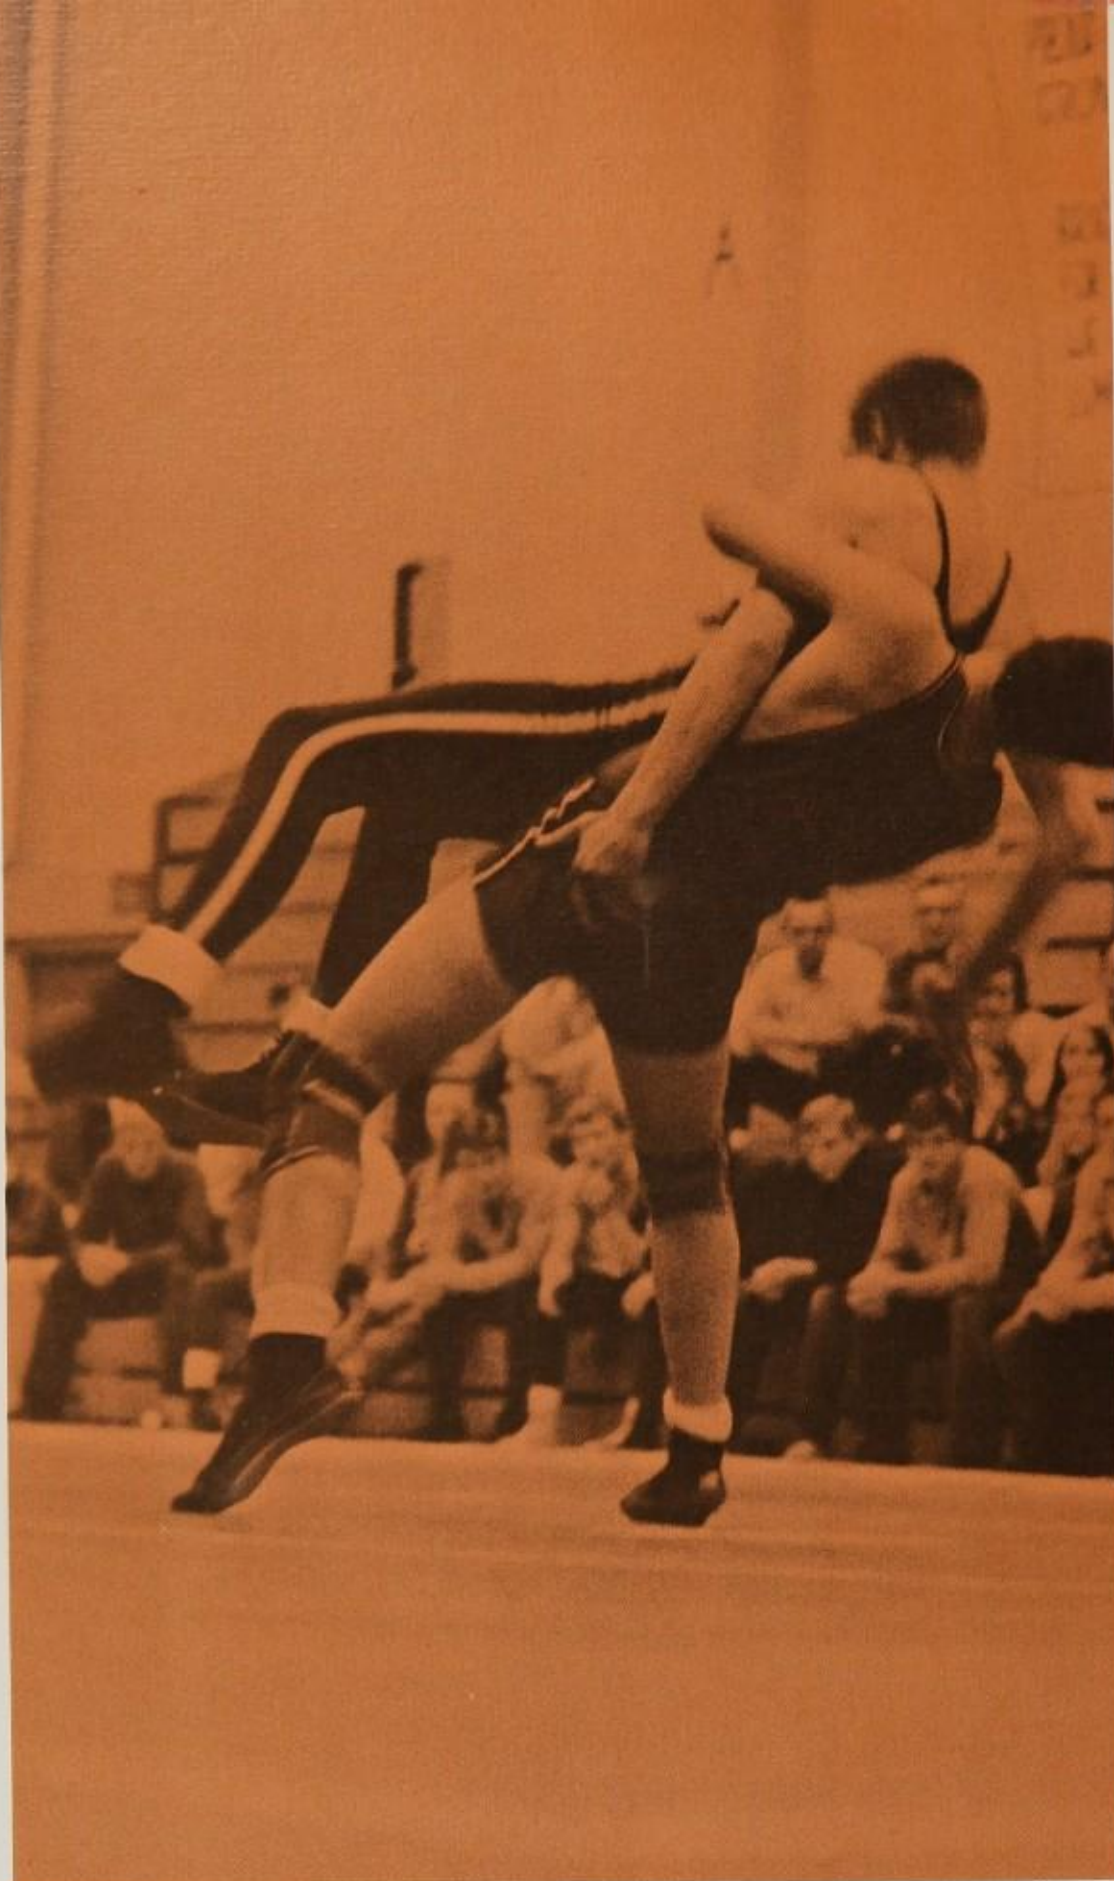

From a total turnout of thirty, the squad was led by only nine veterans. Those matmen who continuously turned in fine performances were John Neubauer, Kevin Mulholland, Steve Hurley, and Bill Graham. These were just a few. All the team members showed determination.

The J.V. team, obviously hampered by numbers, performed credibly in league action. Coached by Assistant Terry Robinson, California State Fullerton graduate, these athletes showed the necessary ingredients needed for Varsity competition and pride.

spikemen rallied for crown in competitive orange league

This year's track team had high hopes in regaining the Orange League Crown with a nucleus of fifteen returning lettermen. Again under the direction of Coach Jack Bighead, the Ovalmen were out to better last year's second place finish.

The Knight's strength lay in a strong esprit de corps. Those who led the Knights were Senior Larry Peters along with Juniors Chris Castro, Scott Gillis, and Eric Thompson.

Leading candidates in the distances were retraining lettermen Austin Howell, George Feliz in the 440, George Volker in the 880 yard run, miler Brad Burlingame, and two-miler Dave Howells.

In the field events, top performers were long jumper Robin Brown, Rick Eckiss in the shot put, and Junior Pat Sheehan in the discuss throw.

Straining for those last precious inches was Dan Billings in the Varsity long jump.

Knights Jay Cavanaugh and John Schaefer teamed up for a good handoff in the Bee relay victory during the Mission Viejo and Western tri-meet held at Katella.

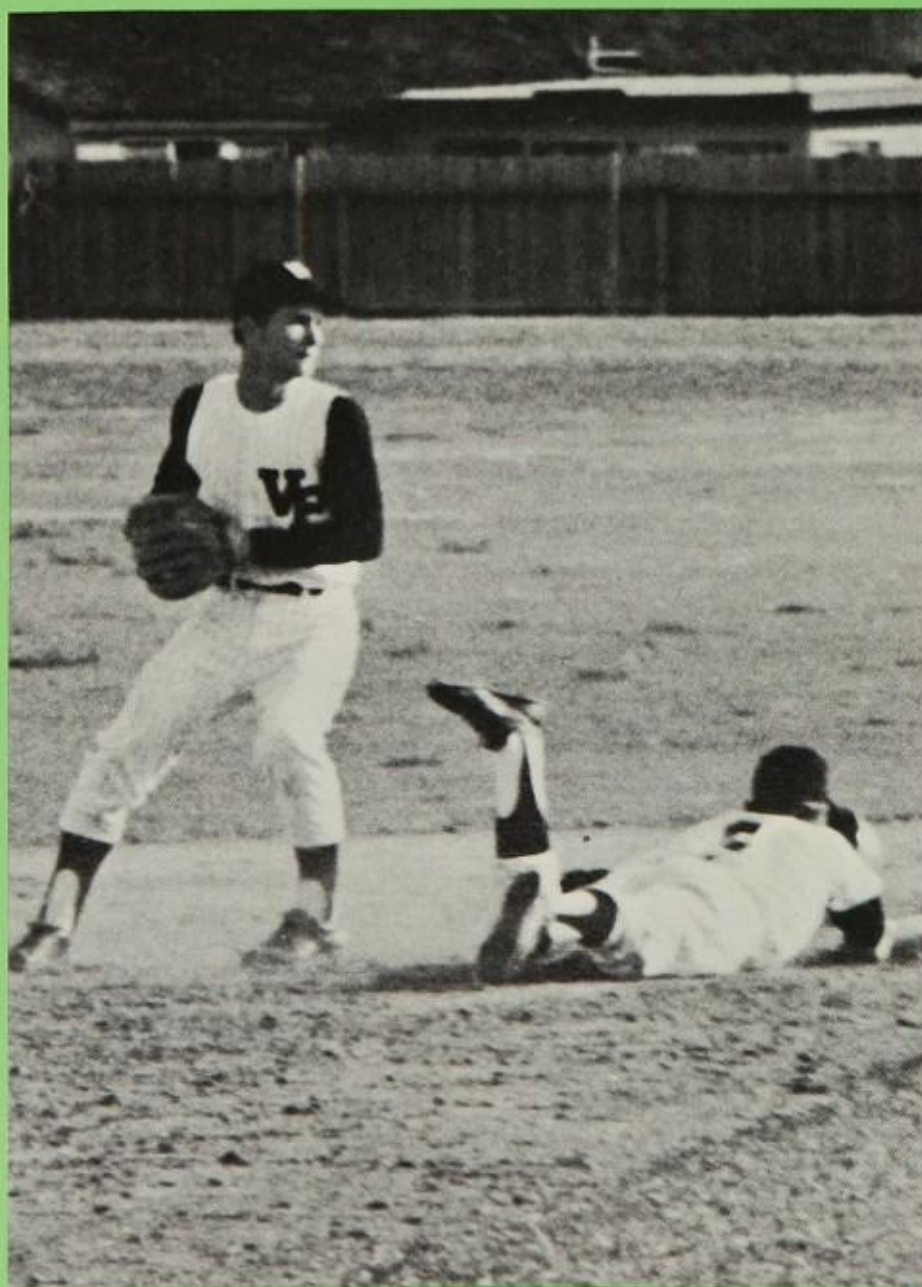

varsity diamondmen powered their way through

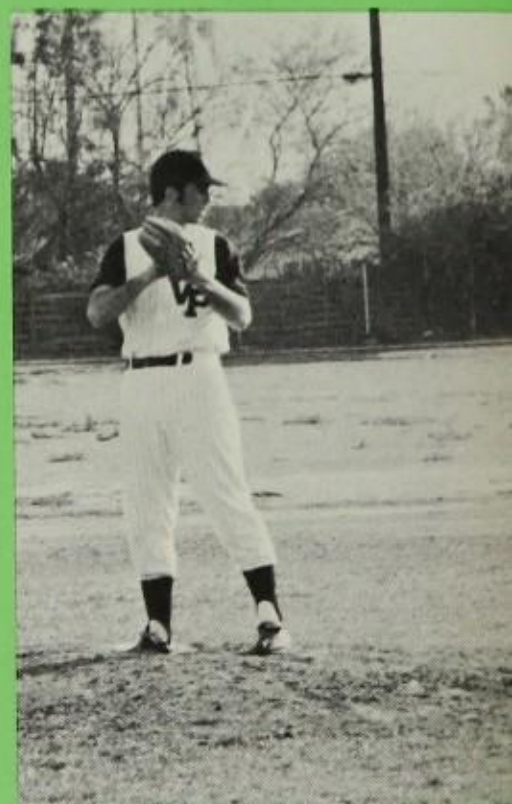

Rick Aberegg and Jerry Gehrls went over strategy before gaining a second place at the Santa Ana Elks Tournament.

Brian Purcha made the pickup of the ball at third, in the battle against Sonora.

Brian Purcha again in action dove back into second base avoiding the tag.

As the 1970 baseball season opened the Knights were faced with a difficult task. The two-time Orange League Champions, who lost the title last year, were faced with the problem of inexperience. With seniors Brian Purcha, Jerry Gehrls, Steve Roush and all leaguers Rick Ingalls and Rick Aber-egg the only returning lettermen, Katella diamondmen faced a difficult reconstruction program.

But the valiant Knights strove to recapture the championship. With the aid of talented sophomores and juniors Katella felt the strength and confidence returning to the club.

In Katella's first outing they dropped Villa Park 3-2, then lost a close one to Foothill 6-4. Entering Orange League the Knights faced the team that knocked them out last year - Brea. Katella started fast and finished up with an 11-2 decision.

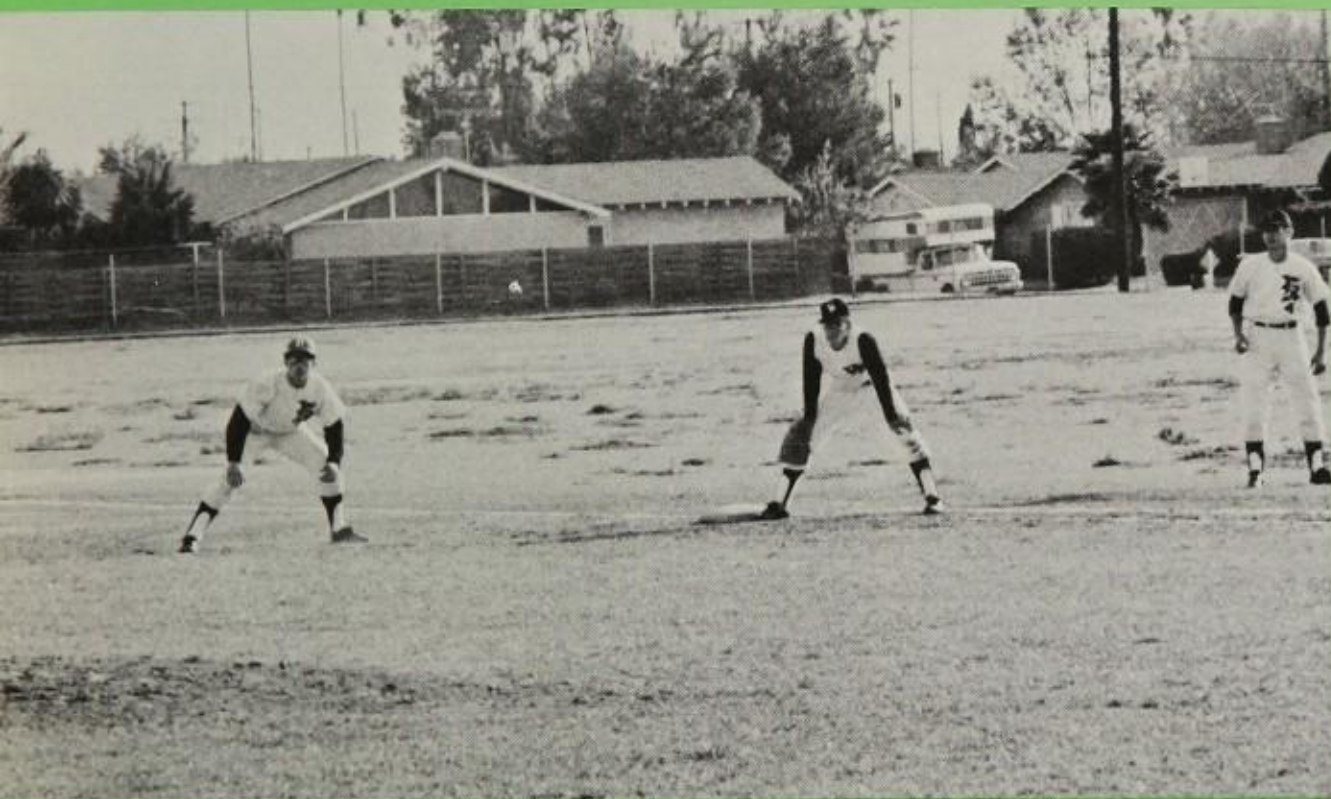

Los Alamitos was the next game and it went down to the wire with Los Al leading 3-0 with their All-League diamond ace Mike Grimwood on the mound. Katella came close on a two-run homerun by Rick Ingalls, but it wasn't enough as Katella fell into second place.

The Knights entered the sixteen team Santa Ana Elks Tournament with the best in the county. Katella beat Kennedy, then knocked off Westminster and proceeded to upset Anaheim. Moving into the Championship round for the first time in Katella's history the Knights dropped a close decision to Loara, 1-0.

Watching the signals from first base coach Steve Thomas, Brian Purcha took a striding lead from the bag in the clash with Villa Park in which Katella emerged victorious.

Jerry Gehrls and Carlos Tinoco warmed up before the clash with Los Alamitos.

Varsity diamondman Mark Steinmeyer walked back to the dugout after attempting a slide into second base.

Pitcher Brian Hall hurled another missile dazing his opponent at the plate and added another win to the Katella cause.

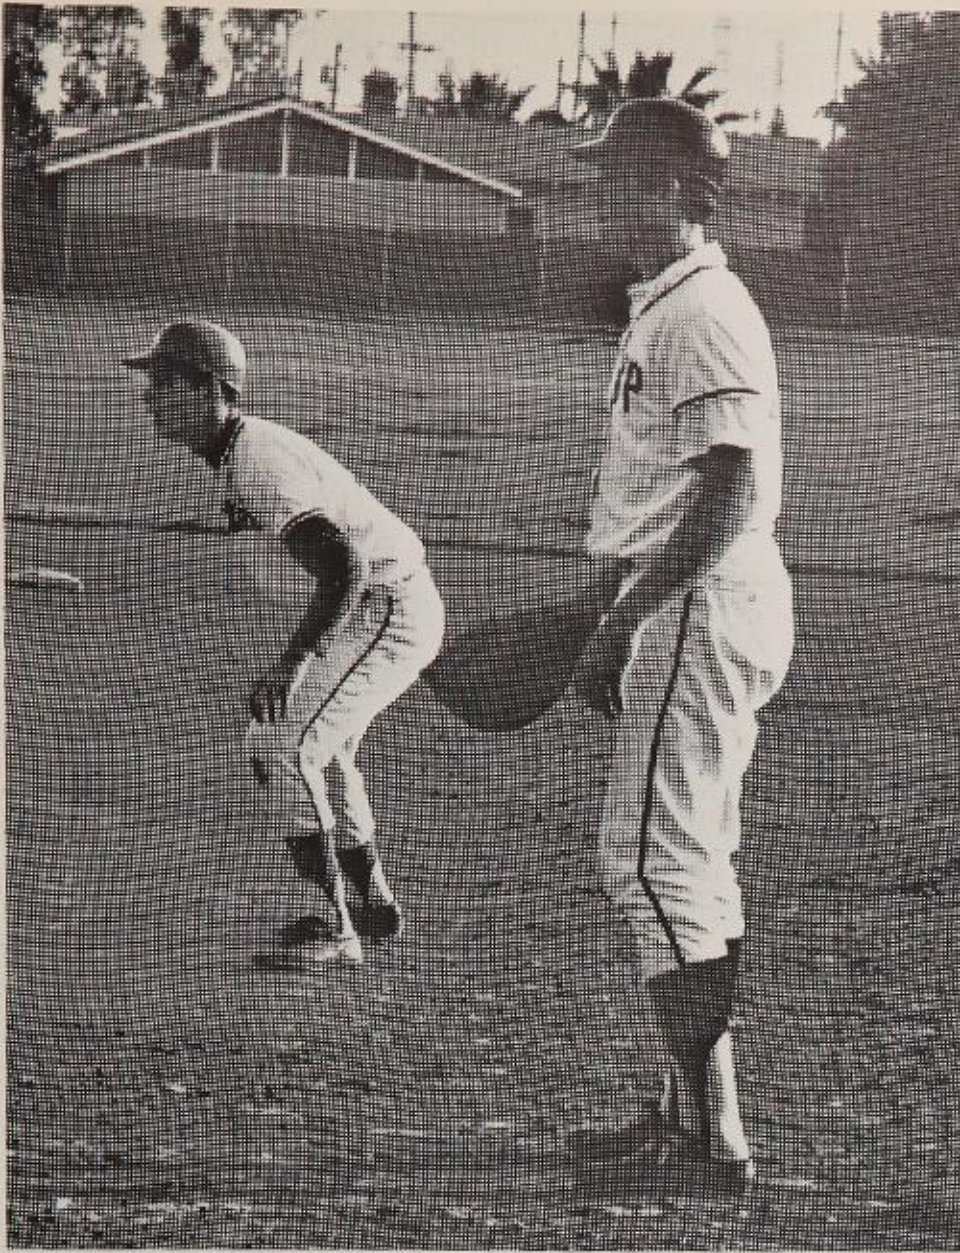

Although he struck hard and fast, Bob Varner missed the horsehide as it went hurtling past him.

Taking his place on the pitcher's throne, ace thrower Ray Jimison prepared for another league contest as he took his warm-up throw.

Ace hurler Ray Jimison delivered a powerhouse pitch during the commanding win against Foothill.

Knight Bob Varner took his lead off first base, keeping his eyes open for that split second when bat and ball fuse in a solid hit.

Coach Ken Reuter directed diamondmen in practice.

The junior varsity baseball club, under the guidance of Coach Charles Costello, underwent long hours of training, learning the fundamentals and gaining the experience of a successful team. The only two returning sluggers were Mike Morrow and Denny Reiter.

The sophomore sluggers showed much talent and hope for the upcoming years. With Coach Ken Reuter fifteen new members were busy being taught the basic skills necessary for upholding Katella's goals.

a solid start; a powerful year for diamondmen

Diamondman Paul Jones prepared himself for another league clash as he took part in the pre-game practice.

raquetmen, golfers strove for team effort

With a good base of returning varsity lettermen, Coach Dixie Howells looked forward to a promising season. After a disappointing 1968-69 season Coach Howells expressed hope in this year's team. Without the help of all C.I.F. star Keith Wakamatsu this year's strokers could have faced some serious reconstruction problems, but with the able help of newly recruited sophomores, the gap was filled.

Anaheim's Municipal Golf Course found the hard hitting golfers daily converging on the links in a constant team improvement effort. Constructive criticism on the part of all team members and Coach Howells accounted for the continual handicap slackening.

Coach Howells helped Jim Italiano improve his form as he practiced his approach in preparation for tournament play.

In what should have been a building year for the netmen, rookie Coach Gary Smith produced the strongest tennis team in Katella's history. Led by starting sophomore Steve Miller and returning second-year man Neal Weber, at one and two singles, the netmen posed an ominous threat to all rivals with main league competition coming from (as in all varsity sports this year) Los Alamitos.

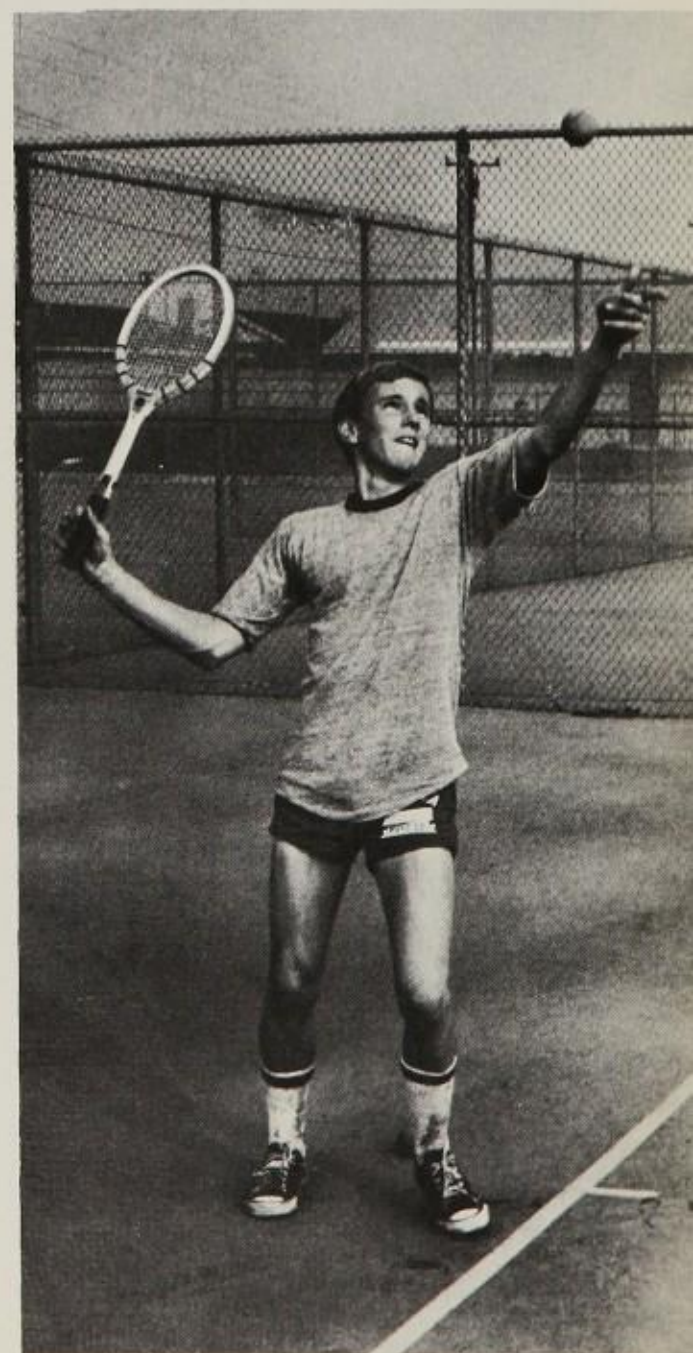

Returning varsity lettermen, Jamie Williamson, Bruce Snyder, and Blain Boyer, added their strength and experience to the Knights' effort. With the previous year of coaching by Gary Dowdle, David Gilmore and Doug Tillotson did their part in adding to the singles department of the team.

At the Junior Varsity level, Coach Smith strove to equal last year's record of one hundred per cent victories in league play with the able help of sophomores Randy Wood, Steve Ballmer, and Phillip Witt.

Coach Smith's theory of placing stress on the fundamentals of the game was shown in his facial determination as he demonstrated the standard serve.

With much work on his serve, Steve Ballmer strove for perfection in pre-season practice.

g.a.a. trounced to victory...

New at Katella, Head Advisor Mrs. Ferguson prompted many a sophomore team onto victory while keeping close tabs on all the club's functions.

Advisor Miss Godke, a constant source of fire and drive, voiced her opinion on one of the orders of business at G.A.A. meeting.

Always ready with a joke or pun to go along with her shouts of criticism, Advisor Mrs. Balsis played a spirited part in the many G.A.A. conquests.

This year's G.A.A., led by the versatile President Sue Moulton, stormed through numerous playdays, sweeping aside their opponents, emerging battle scarred, but victorious.

The annual potluck dinner and sophomore initiation started the year off in a whirlwind of activity. Sophomores were put through the ultimate in physical torture masterminded by the scheming seniors.

If that wasn't enough to satisfy their egomania, the seniors went collecting their sophomore prey at 4:00 in the morning for the "come as you are" breakfast. Belligerent underclassmen were forced to race around Katella singing "Mickey Mouse" while holding hands. The sophomores got their revenge, as a senior was dumped unmercifully into a swimming pool.

The coming of tournament teams brought Miss Godke's famous 7:15 in the morning practices. Crowned with curlers, adorned with blackbags under their eyes, the luxury of sleep still fresh in their minds, the tournament basketball team held up to every command thrown their way.

Field hockey took its toll on the inexperienced sophomores as was apparent by the numerous injuries and the not so numerous conquests. The cause was saved by the juniors and seniors who somehow filled the void brought on by the "green" sophomores and the hockey season turned out to be a success after all.

Faced with a magnitude of loose ends, advisors Mrs. Ferguson, Miss Godke, and Mrs. Balsis succeeded in forming a unit striving toward victory for Katella. Whether handing out ice packs, lending strategic advice, or splitting the air with the bark of a command, the advisors were a necessary asset to the success of the organization.

G.A.A. President Sue Moulton conversed with head advisor Mrs. Ferguson on the complexities of running an organization.

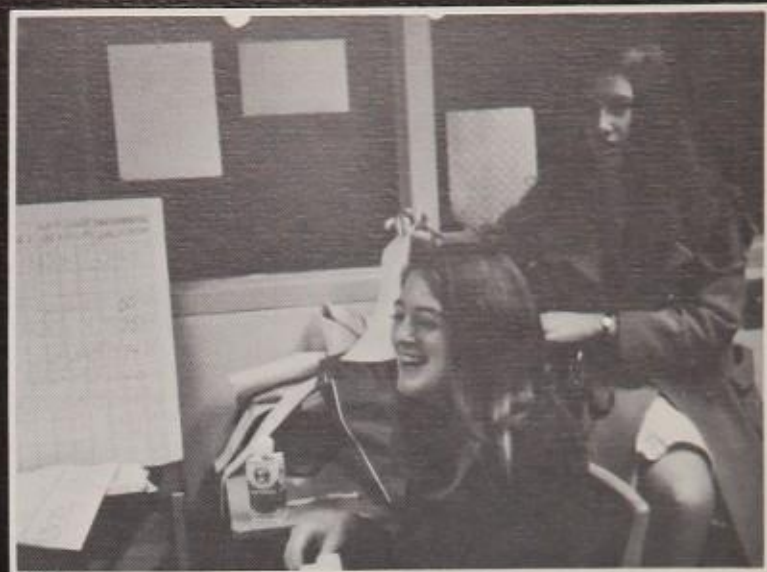

Having never lost a game since the organization of their team when sophomores, the Number One Senior hockey team ran the Pioneers of Western High ragged.

Advisors Mrs. Balsis, Mrs. Ferguson, and Miss Godke helped to make the G.A.A. a rewarding experience while competing against other schools.

G.A.A. proved to be an experience in friendship as many hours were spent playing jokes and making puns while preparing for the numerous tournaments.

The director of the English Lab, Mr. Fred Myers, represented the style of teaching at Katella. Instead of just being taught the hard, straight facts, students were allowed to solve and explore the mysteries of our language and culture for themselves. The student was allowed to look inside and identify himself. And when classes were conducted in such a manner, the student was able to help create courses that could be useful in man's daily life and fulfilling to his soul. Involvement and understanding were the key words to the success of Katella's English Department.

Department Head, Mr. Edward Lessard, strove for a more flexible learning system throughout the '69-'70 school year. "When students help plan class activities, then there will be communication, and communication is speaking." In Katella's language department, students were encouraged to 'dig deeper' into the mysteries of foreign languages and cultures. In order to truly appreciate a language, the student must learn to admire the country. "Admiration is basic to unity." These words of Mr. Lessard summed up the feelings and enthusiasm of the department members for languages.

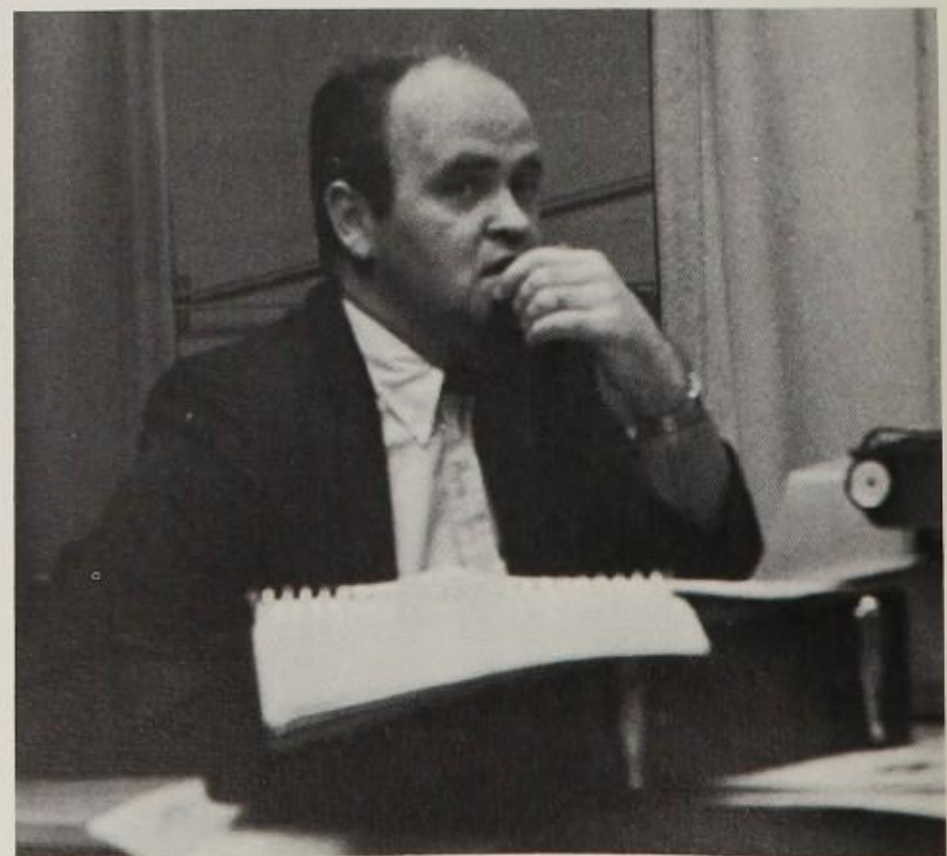

The German and Spanish classes increased their knowledge of the languages through the use of headsets combined with oral recitation. Mrs. Joan Pecchia, Mr. Kenneth Reber, Mr. Donald Ferguson, and Mr. Darrel Crose led the Spanish, French and German classes in these activities.

Giving...that's what education has been all about. A mutual understanding between student and teacher has always been important, and it was mandatory in the field of industrial arts. Woodshop could be a dull class and homemaking could be even worse. But there was a big spark of ingenuity and interest in these areas by both students and faculty alike, which has made this field increasingly popular on campus. Interest even went so far as to set up extracurricular activities in these fields such as the Radio and Future Homemaker Clubs.

Involvement in activities was also the basis for Katella's special education classes. In preparing for their futures, these students didn't waste any time. After learning the many domestic skills offered in their classes, they used those same skills for the betterment of their school through many campus improvement projects which they helped to bring about.

Katella's Mathematics Department had a superb year. Six mathematics instructors provided Katella with an exceptional math program, including courses ranging from General Math to Calculus. While the math instructors worked on establishing the principles of math, the Science Department made great use of these foundations in their classes.

The goal of the Science Department, headed by Mr. Robert McMahon was to motivate some students into considering Science as a possible career. Mr. Heer especially strove for student motivation in his Biology classes. Other teachers in the Science Department were Mrs. Jane Walker, Mr. Gary Smith, and Mr. Gerald Quissell. With their combined efforts, the Science Department's Task Club rapidly became one of Katella's most active organizations. Lectures, Co-Recs, and field trips were some of the clubs activities.

Unified effort on the part of the faculty and the students created very rewarding learning experiences in both the Math and Science departments.

One of the newest and most interesting departments recently introduced into the curriculum of California high schools was that of Driver and Health Education for sophomore students. With Mr. Calvin Johnson and Mr. Ken Reuter instructing the Health classes, the Class of '72 learned the basic fundamentals of Health Education and were also exposed to some new concepts of which they hadn't been previously aware.

Led by Mr. Grover Nutt, the combined teaching staff of Mr. Lars Peterson, Mr. Tom Danley, Mr. Jack Bighead, Mr. Bill Rivers, and Mr. Charles Denney, gave Pages an opportunity to better their driving skills. Valuable techniques for today's defensive driving, prepared simulator instruction, and actual behind the wheel training were some of the features of the course which were offered to interested students.

Sports has always been one of the most important aspects of any school, whether it be a C.I.F. championship or a G.A.A. playday. Even though every student was involved in sports in one way or another, some students questioned the importance of athletics in their schedule. Mrs. Jan Balsis had some very definite answers to the question of the significance of physical education. "No matter what talents a person may have, he is not happy unless he's healthy. Physical education offers activities for social adjustment as well as sports. Students learn to be successful as a group, not every man for himself." Miss Jan Godke provided good leadership for the Girls' P.E. Department and Mr. John Wallin was once again the Boys' P.E. Director. By working together, the P.E. instructors offered an outstanding physical fitness program to all Knights with a varied selection of activities from which to choose.

'katella has potential, it's becoming something unique and wonderful'

mr. dean wakefield

The key to putting on any good performance has always been unity. Together with Mr. Dean Wakefield, the members of the Katella Knights' Band used this unique feature of unity and combined it with many hours of practice to produce a very successful and rewarding year. Band I and II were both skillfully instructed by Mr. Wakefield. A newly formed organization on campus, the Stage Band, became open for all interested students. It was responsible for much of the music of the pep assemblies. Mr. Roger Axworthy, head of the Katella Vocal Department, instructed the Girls' Glee, Mixed Chorus, Madrigals, and A Capella Choirs. These groups participated in many Musical Extravanzas and won several awards for their fine performances.

Another area where unity was essential was Photography. This year it was taught by Mr. Parrott, new to Katella's teaching staff. Photo I and II prepared Knights for a future job or just a very interesting hobby. Many long hours were spent by the Photo staff to also make the Legend and Knights' Page successful.

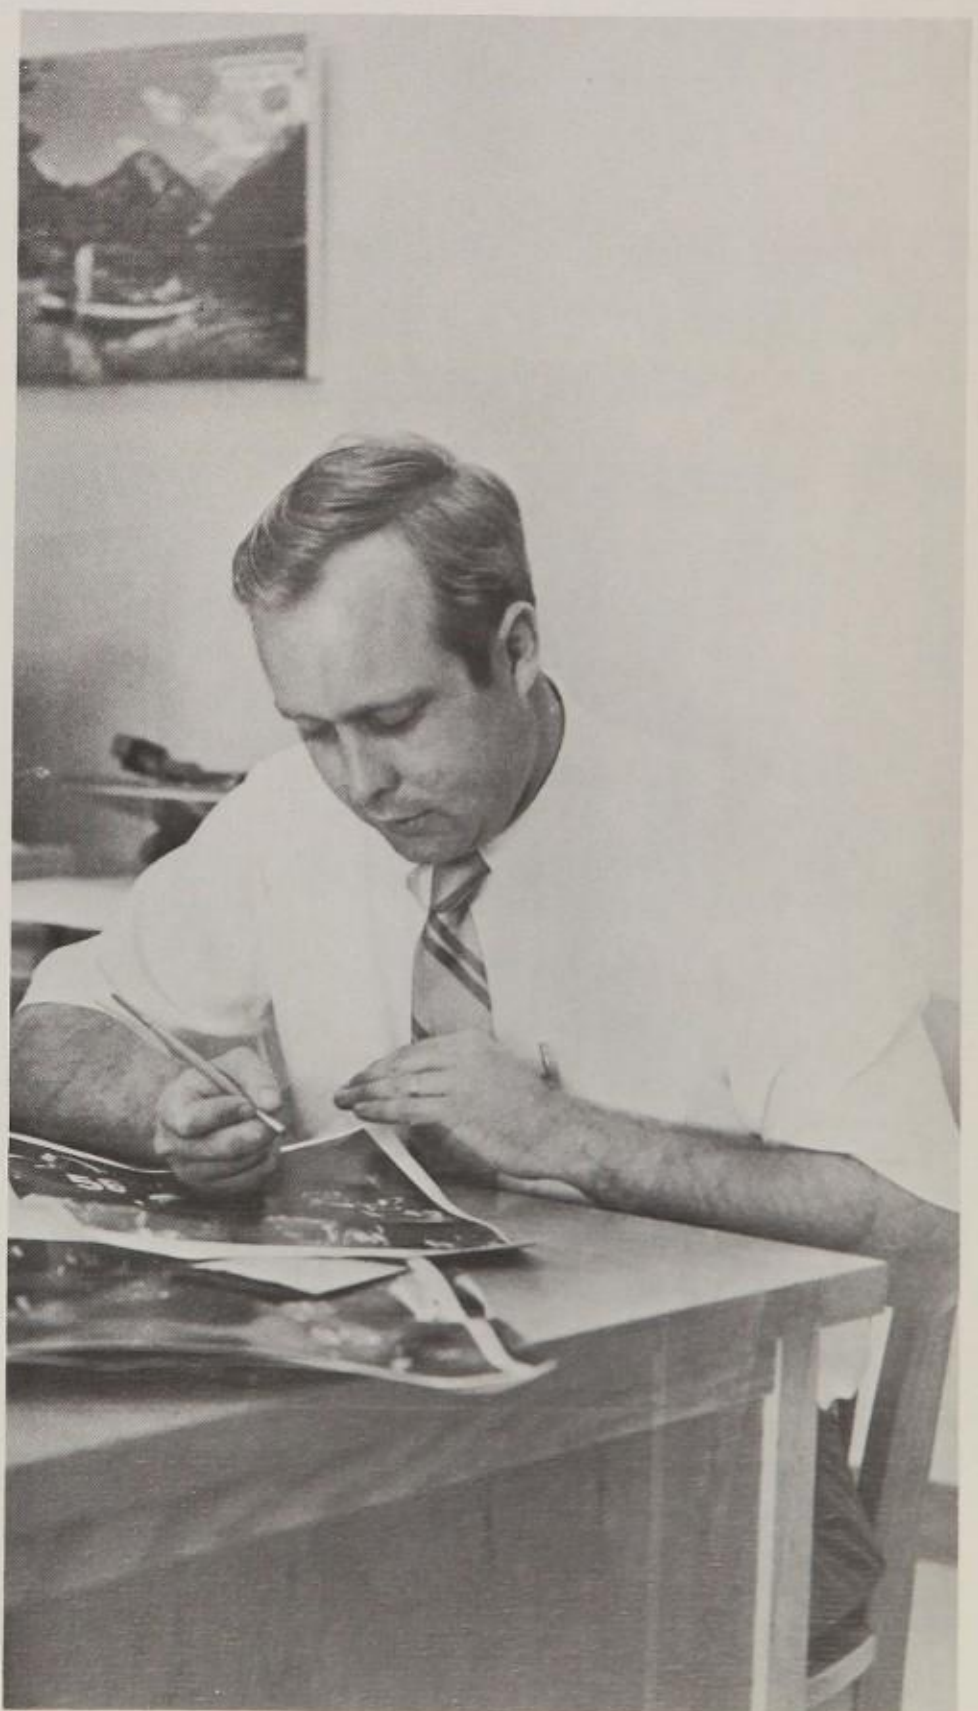

Art was another area where students were preparing for future jobs or gaining a valuable hobby. In the Art Department, Mr. Ted Wade, Department Head, and Mr. Jeffrey Bates helped students increase their basic fundamentals and skills in art, artcrafts, and ceramics.

Katella is a machine. A machine with many and varied intricate parts. In order to keep these parts unified and working together, some people had to be present who could oversee and direct all proceedings. Such was the task performed by the secretarial staff of Katella. Wounded and ill Knights sought out Mrs. Lea, school nurse, with her cheery disposition succeeded in bringing back from oblivion those seemingly "hopeless" cases. Students were always welcomed by Mrs. Bell to come in and browse among the many literary wonders stored in the campus library. Katella is based on teamwork, and with our squad total unity and cohesiveness was achieved.

Mrs. Marion Newburn, Cafeteria Manager, found herself plagued throughout the '69-70 school year with longer lunch lines, crowded seating arrangements in the cafeteria, and higher food prices. With the assistance of her able staff and other school maintenance workers, these problems were smoothed out.

Students were offered various snack foods as an option to a hot meal served inside the cafeteria. They had the freedom to eat inside the cafeteria, or outside on the picnic tables. Records were usually played during nutrition and lunch for the enjoyment of those who ate outside. Every few days a club usually sponsored an activity like the Inter-Act Club "Balloon Race" and the "Mr. Lovable" Contest during the lunch hour to liven up the lunch bunch.

Other members of Katella's classified staff included the bus drivers and the equipment and fieldmen who faithfully served the school in their own fields. Mr. Ernest Barco, head custodian, and his staff were in charge of keeping up the appearance of the school. Mr. Vernon Shaner, Security Guard for the parking lot, once again made available his special assistance to students.

Katella's students knew that no matter what problems they were faced with, they always had a friend and a sympathetic listener who would try to help solve their problems. These four sympathetic listeners were Katella's counselors. But they did far more than just sympathize. They were confronted with class scheduling, graduation requirements, college entrance tests, scholarships, and many other activities as well as sponsoring many extra curricular activities and clubs on a daily basis.

Mr. Gary McCarthy-Student Activities Director

Mrs. Mariya Fassler-Girls' Vice-Principal

Also lending their help were Mr. Erland Eberhard, Boys Vice-Principal and Mrs. Mariya Fassler, Girls' Vice-Principal. Being the disciplinary enforcers was not an easy job. They both had the job of introducing the new dress regulations set by the school district and in some way or another, they were involved in nearly every school activity.

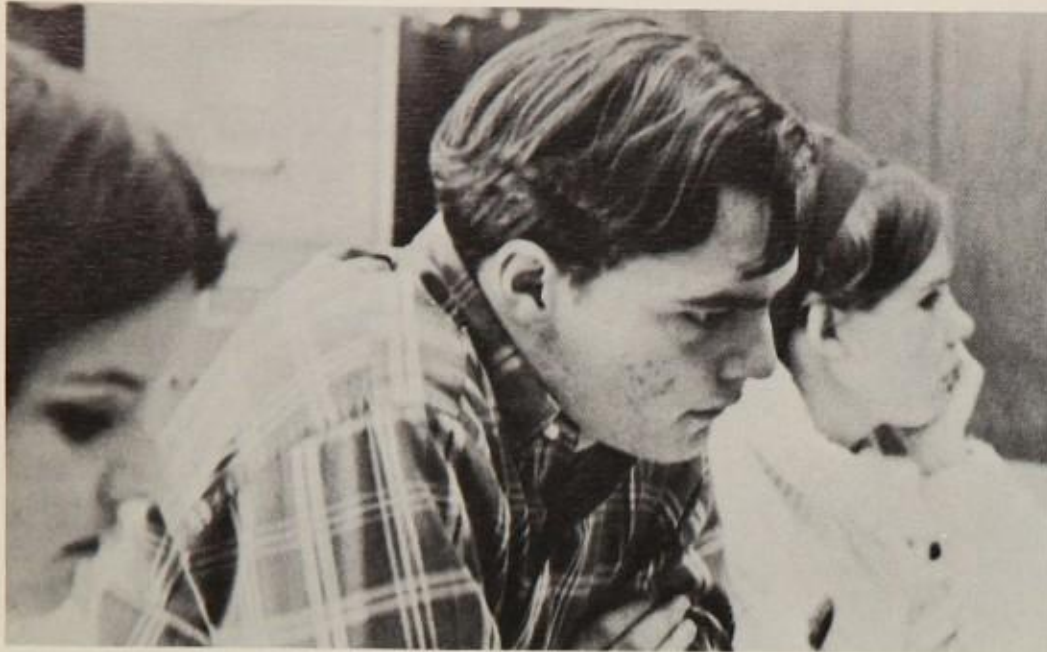

Mr. Gary McCarthy, Student Activities Director, deftly led the Student Cabinet and kept himself informed on the activities of every student club or organization. He was in charge of nearly every assembly and activity throughout the year, and he energetically worked to build up the school spirit to a high peak.

Led by Student Body President Martin Crowe, the thirteen members of the 1969-70 Student Body Cabinet fulfilled their goals of maintaining a strong and active school government.

With all of the disorder and unrest in today's schools, the Student Cabinet did a fine job keeping the Knights informed on all the school's activities and policies in order to create a unified atmosphere in which every student could feel included. So many concerned students wanted to become involved, and the Student Cabinet directed their ambitions to all of the things which promoted pride in their school and country.

The Student Cabinet planned and carried out many school activities under the capable leadership of Mr. Gary McCarthy, the Activities Director. This group's united effort was directly responsible for the promotion of school spirit through challenging assemblies, and the involvement of many more students in clubs as a result of their eager encouragement. They were also responsible for the successful Green Thumb Day Revival, where all three classes combined to carry out a task which at one time had been considered as practically impossible. Certainly, all Knights have reason to be proud of these leaders' accomplishments.

With a handshake or a pat on the back, Mr. McNamara's willingness and ability to communicate with the students was easily discernable.

Mr. McNamara discussed Katella's potential with the student body at the opening assembly.

"Great things happen with involvement. The students at Katella have been the main voice; they were the ones who pulled the school together."

'a relationship of understanding and insight'

james e. mcnamara

Mr. James E. McNamara was very enthusiastic when he found out he was to be the one to take Katella from the ground floor to its highest goals. He met with the students before that opening year of 1967 in order to share with them the exhilaration of forming traditions. Finally through mutual respect and regard between students and principal, the Katella Knight was created.

From that first spark of tradition, Mr. McNamara set a goal for his Knights; "do the best we can in anything we attempt." In order to attain this goal of excellence, certain standards were established.

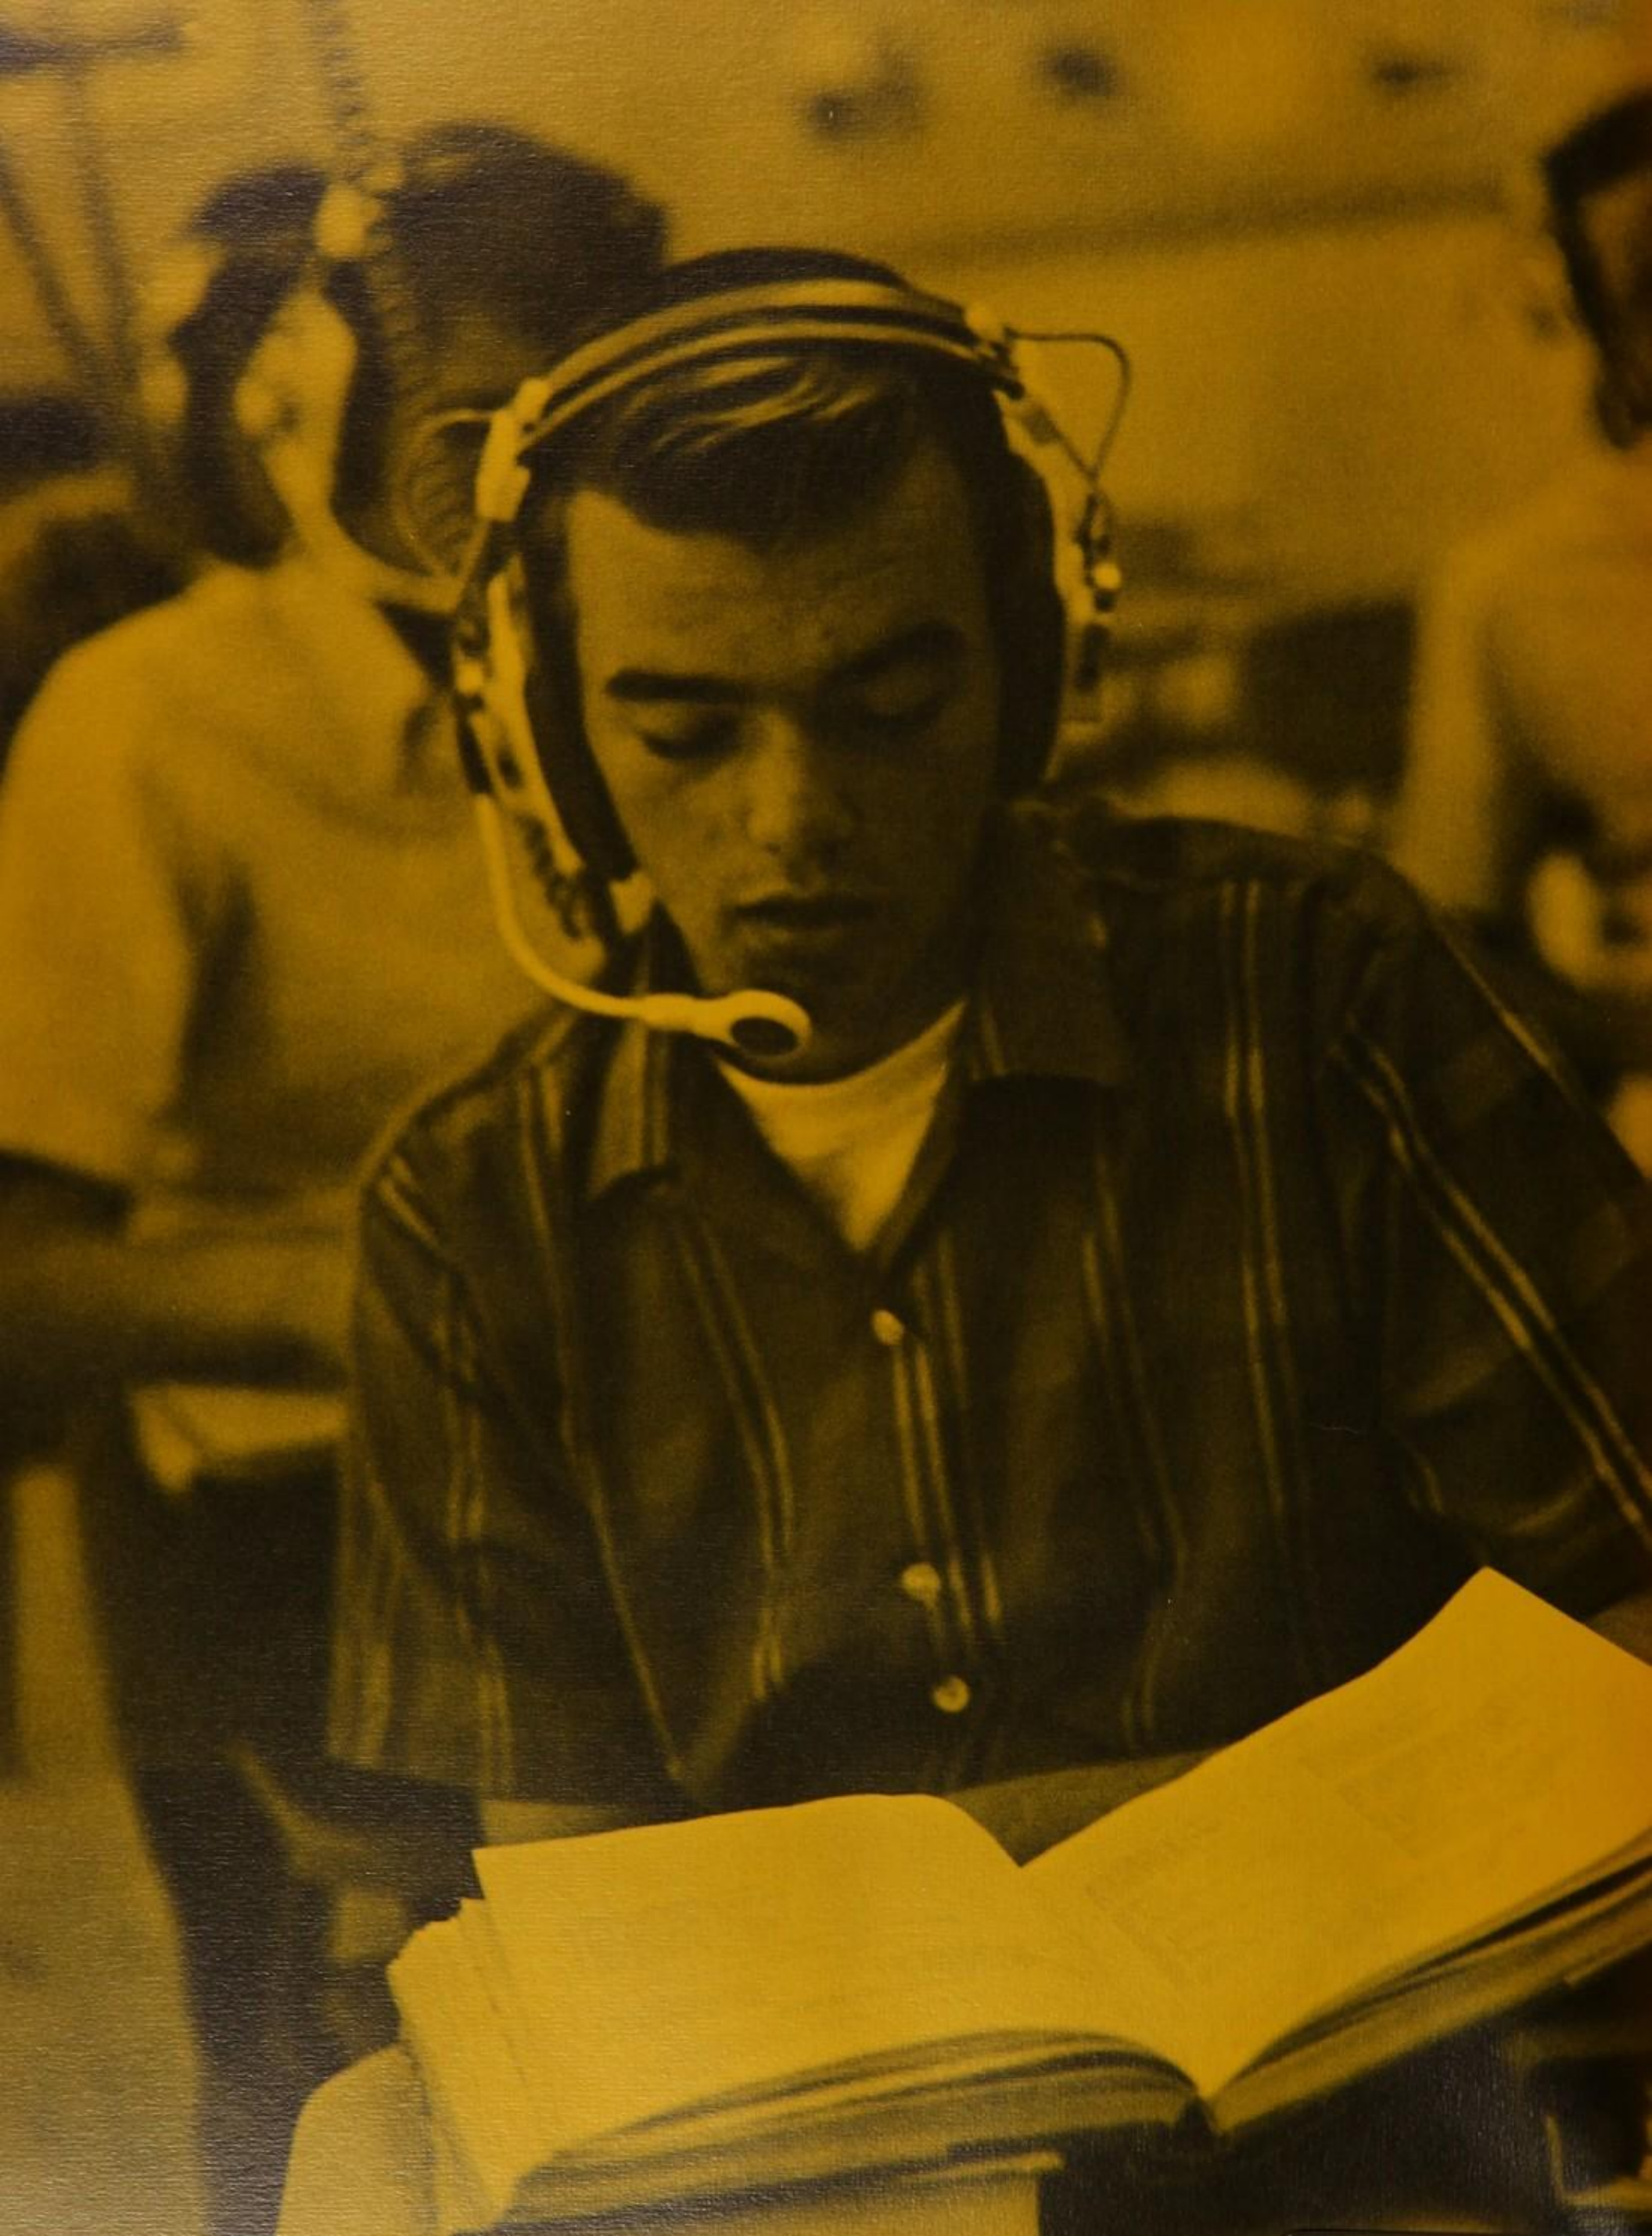

Faculty members headed the list for qualification standards. "We wanted teachers who were willing to make school work enjoyable and interesting as well as academic. We wanted a relationship built on understanding and insight. We felt a relaxed atmosphere was a good basis for rapport between student and teacher. All this can be summed up in two words: competence and human involvement, something I think we've got here at Katella."

Katella's goal of excellence was left to be built by its students. "There should be no set standards for accomplishment. We have to build people on their accomplishments rather than harp on their shortcomings."

"Great things happen with involvement. The students at Katella have the main voice; they are the ones who can pull the school together. They have the ability to make Katella one of the best schools, a school with a lasting reputation."

Katella High started out as a dream, a dream that through the years has been molded into lasting tradition and excellence. "I am confident," said Mr. McNamara, "that the administration working hand in hand with the student body will achieve our goal of excellence."

sophomores established foundations for future years at kahi

Thomas Paine once said, "Tis not in numbers but in unity that our great strength lies." The Sophomore class had it made. They were not only the largest class Katella has ever had, but also one of the most spirited. Adjusting to Knight life was no problem at all.

Sophomores participated in every club and activity on campus. No one could suppress their spirit. Week after week, the Sophomores walked away with the "Spirit Stick" and the "Knights' Sword". And they deserved every privilege they received. They were just great!

The Sophomore class sponsored many activities including a Victory Dance in early December. Their main objective was to raise money either to donate a permanent gift to the school, or to start saving for future expenses arising in their Junior year.

Sophomore Class President, Jim Handsel, remarked, "I was quite surprised at the Sophomores' enthusiastic response. They have shown so far, that we are one of, if not the most, spirited classes this school has ever had. By the end of the year, I'm sure the Class of '72 will have left a mark never to be forgotten."

Everyone was pleased with the underclassmen, and they were encouraged to keep up the good work.

Sara Bryce and Ray Durgin were introduced to the rhythm of Knight life at the annual Howdy Dance.

caught up in an atmosphere of excellence,

Class President Steve Goodyear had high hopes for the Junior class. He remarked, "Class spirit was down in the beginning, but as we began sponsoring more activities, spirit and enthusiasm reached a peak."

This certainly proved to be true. Through Steve's lively leadership, all of the Juniors became interested and helped to support many activities.

Before Christmas vacation, the Class of '71 sponsored the "Knight Before Christmas" Dance. At that time, they originated a new Kahi tradition by donating a large tree to be decorated.

Steve wanted this year's Junior-Senior Prom to be the most elegant dance Katella had ever had. Those who attended it, readily agreed that the Junior class' goal had been achieved beyond expectations.

Mr. McNamara cheered on the crew building a new circular patio for the Knights to help make the noon hour a little greener and more pleasant.

Someone once said that the teen-age years are the best years of life. Lots of kids laugh at this and mutter, "You've got to be kidding! If this is the best..."

The amount of enjoyment a young person experiences in his teen-age years is only up to himself. He has every advantage in the world. The Class of '70 was a fine example of active and happy young people in today's competitive and rushed world.

A tremendous amount of activities were sponsored by this class in their three years at Katella. They were always helping, leading, and following. They were united.

All of these activities made the three years fly by quickly. Just in this year alone, the Class of '70 sponsored a Knight's Day, Pancake Breakfast, the Homecoming Dance, and the Senior Assembly. They also sold concessions to fans and crowds at the Track and B Football games.

The Senior Class Cabinet worked diligently towards establishing more Senior privileges.

Class President Chuck Page remarked, "Throughout the year, it was apparent that the Seniors still possessed school spirit. I was pleased, but there could have been more. I hope that, in the years to come, my class will look back to this year with fond memories."

A frequent sight at any campus function was the Katella Knight, bearing the traditional shield: "In this sign we conquer."

seniors took part in collage of interests

Mr. Schlatter and Peggy Stephens directed one of the many rehearsals which made Katella's first play of the year a huge success.

Senior homemakers were tested by the Betty Crocker Company for their knowledge in the kitchen.

Chris Hutchinsen and Rick Barthel proved that a song means much more than words as they entertained an attentive audience at one of the Folk-Rock Concerts.

Seniors consoled each other with nervous chatter as Mrs. Lea readied them for their tuberculin tests.

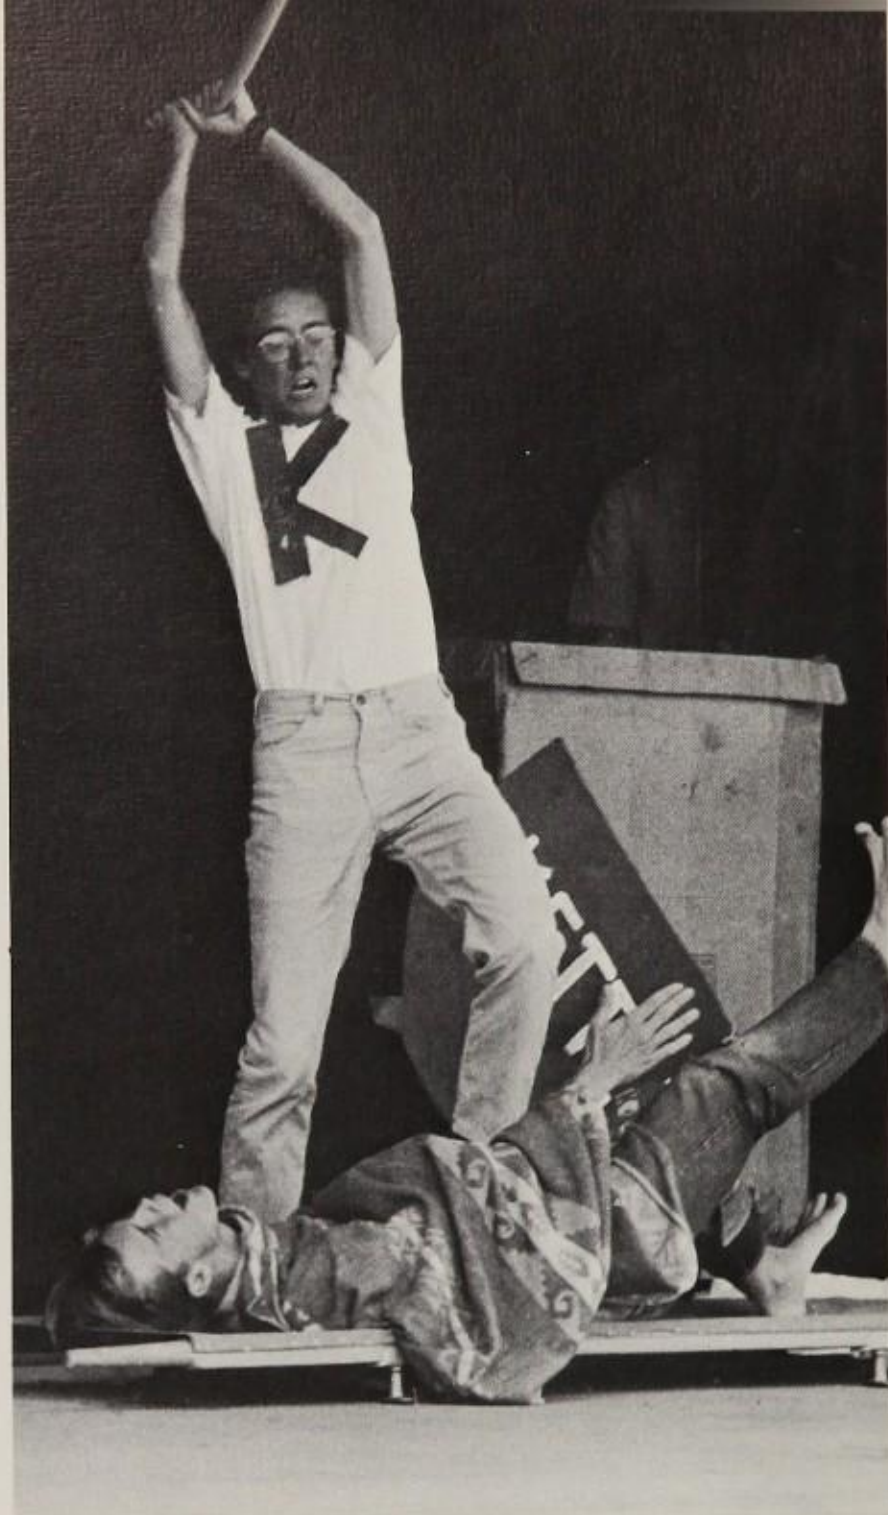

Prompted on by their numerous victories, members of the varsity football squad led the school with their boisterous spirit.

for spirited year*

Important information was passed on to Laurie Brier from Debbie Webster during the active lunch period.

Craig Clifford showed Katella's strength and might, proving again that Katella conquers all.

Steve Goodyear tried vainly to boost his juniors and instill in them the will to win spirit honors.

*spirited sophomores proved to be potential assets
for katella's future*

Spirit overflowed as Bonnie Kenworthy added her voice to the enthusiastic sophomore outburst at the frequent pep assemblies.

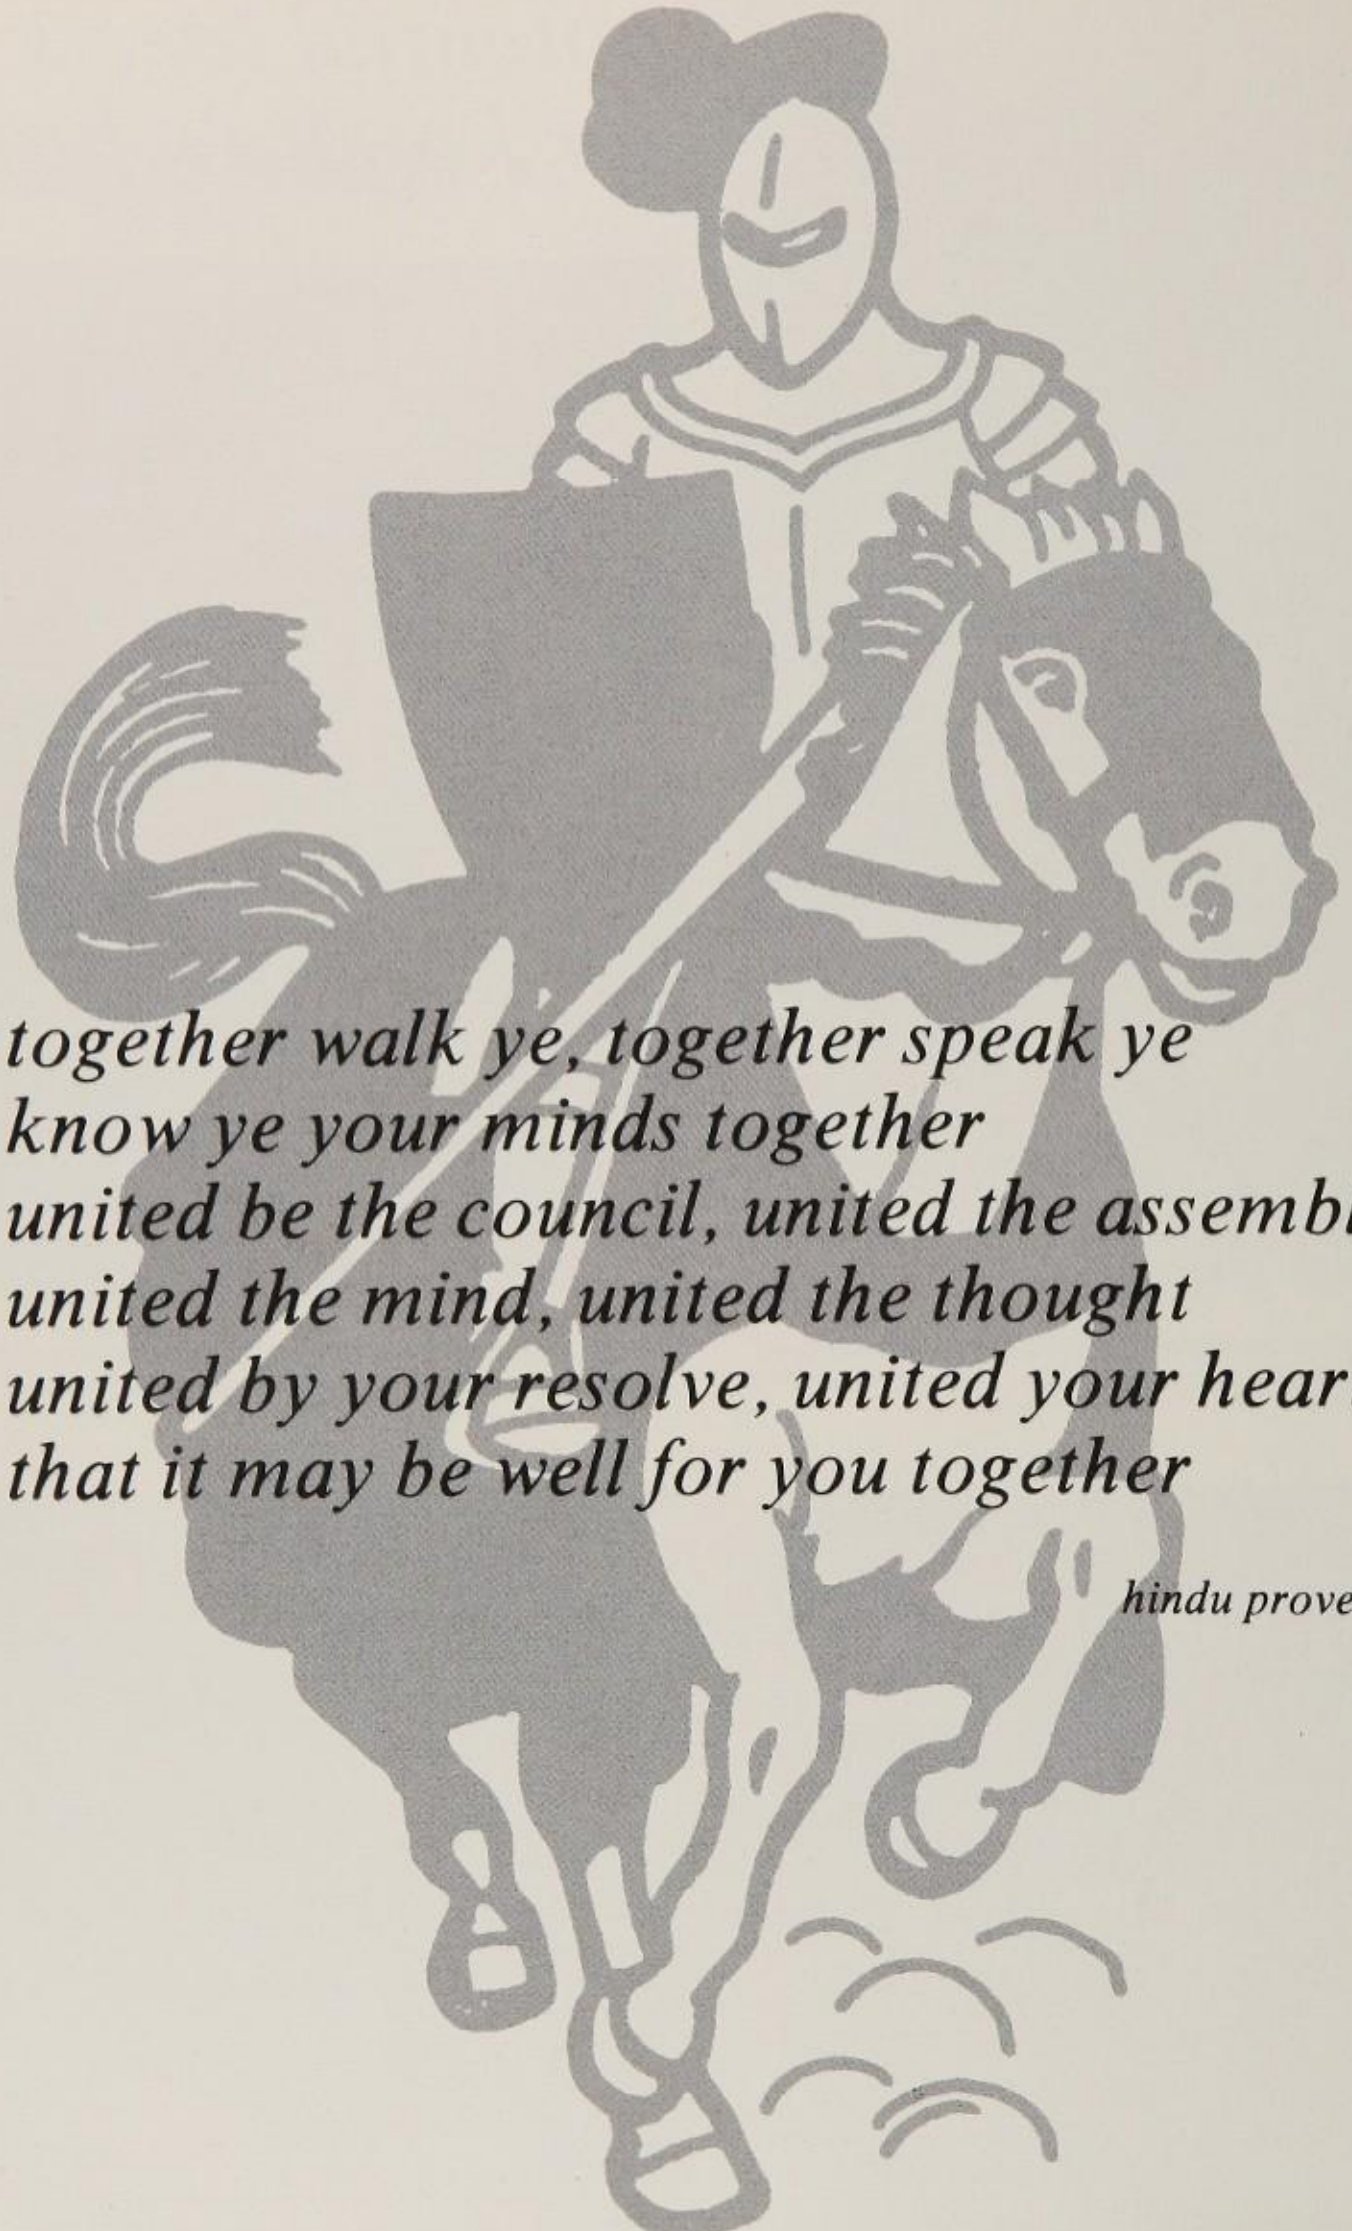

First-year secretaries Lin Haupt and Stella Jenkin became enraptured in their typewriters in an effort to perfect their typing skill.

Amidst a flurry of knife blades, imagination took the form of unusual but traditional pumpkin faces.

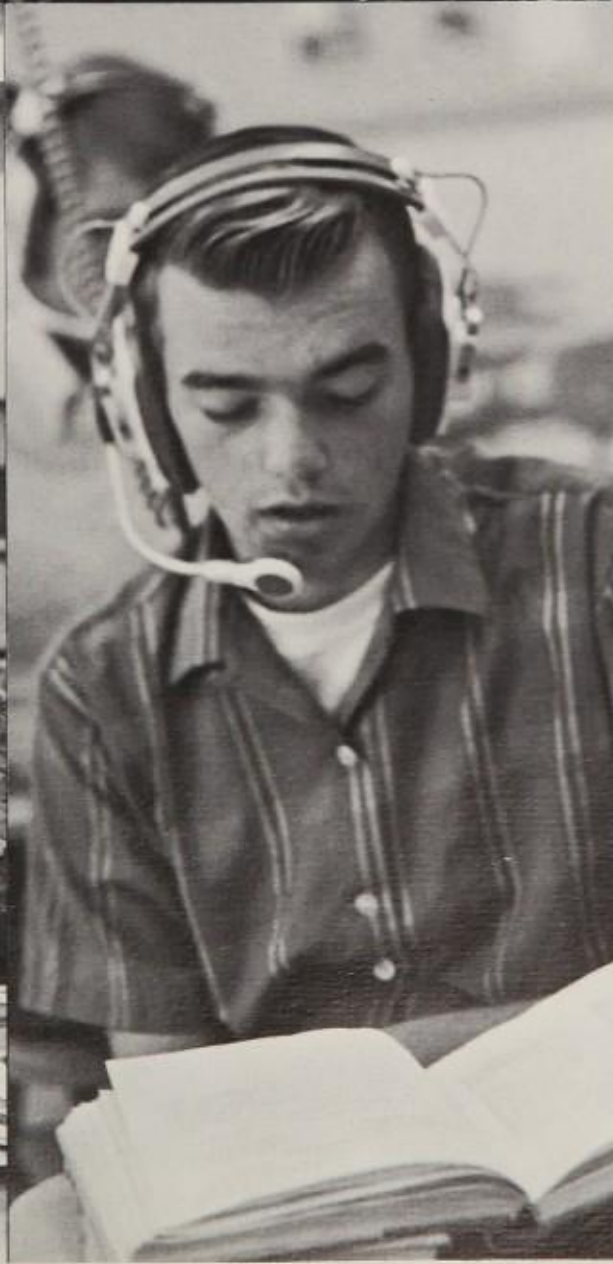

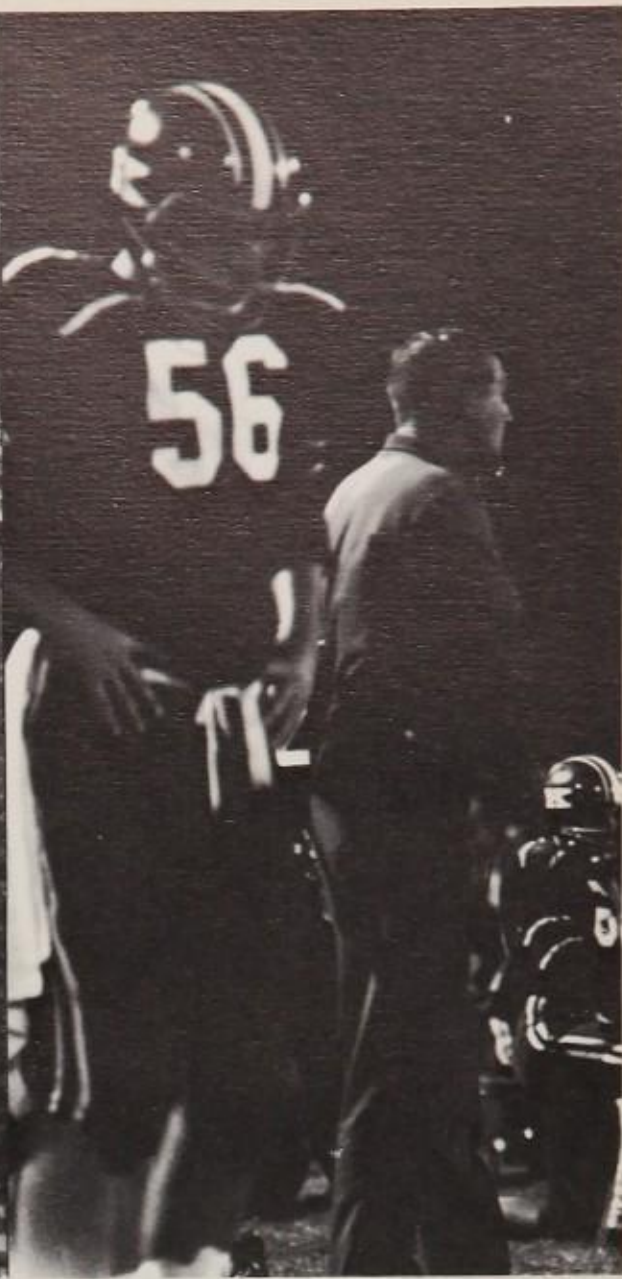

First-year Knights crowded around the picture distributors for a glimpse of their friends.

together walk ye, together speak ye know ye your minds together united be the council, united the assembly united the mind, united the thought united by your resolve, united your hearts that it may be well for you together

Friendship is like the beginning of day, starting with a dull light and finally achieving a golden brilliance.

Education is a learning process, a unification of minds.

The campus is a place of thought, a whirlwind of activity, a place for friendship.

Unity, that sums it all up. One small word is the basis of our social structure, the very means of our existence. Fate is decided by the actions of others and the outcome of civilization will be a group effort, something formed by many hands.

Katella High School is a very essential part of this unified effort. It's an establishment of people; a coalition of ideas which every student is a part of. The day starts with the ringing of a bell. Students and administration work together, the main objective being Katella's success. The day may end, but ideas hold no bounds. People are constantly thinking and making their ideas work as a unit, whether it be athletics or academic prowess. Katella's students are like the pieces of a puzzle; every piece is needed to form a complete picture.

Laughter crashes forth like a wave on the beach, drowning all forms of sorrow and defeat.

Thought unites people; a new idea is formed and people work together formulating the idea into reality.

A single purpose unites teacher and student; the barrier of misunderstanding is broken.

And another day ends, friends separate only to join again the next day.

The people arose with one common thought, and one common goal, fused with the power of spirit.
